MRS. NATION TO ST. LOUIS WOMEN

Asks Them to Take Up the Hatchet and "Smash."

LOOKING AFTER THE DOLLARS

CRUSADER STICKLES FOR RECEIPTS OF PEORIA LECTURE.

Taken Through the Largest Distillery in the World on a Tour of Inspection as the Guest of the Managers.

MRS. NATION TO THE WOMEN OF ST. LOUIS.

From a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 27.—Mrs. Carrie Nation sends, through the Post-Dispatch, the following address to the women of St. Louis:

To my Dear Sisters of St. Louis—Organize dear sisters an army of Home Defenders. I will send you the badge, a nice button, for every child in your city. Agitate and run out early some morning with a good steel hatchet and make a crash and a smash, and don't mind the jail, and keep it up. Soon the Lord will see that you are not lukewarm and He will do the best smashing right into the hearts of these poor saloon devils. Yours, all for the love of those who are precious in God's sight.

CARRIE NATION.

From a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 27.—After a strenuous day as editor of the Peoria Journal and a stirring night as public lecturer at Rouse's Hall and private lecturer on the street and in saloons, wherever she encountered a man with a pipe or a pink nose, Mrs. Carrie Nation, "Home Defender," arose early this morning and received callers and congratulations.

At 10 o'clock, by appointment, a carriage, provided by distillery managers, called for her at the Cosmopolitan Hotel and she visited and inspected the largest distillery in the world, the Great Western.

"I am going to leave for Kansas today," she said, "where I shall re-enter the Topeka jail. I am out on bond, and I'm afraid I just can't keep from smashing with my hatchet if I stay out. I am going to remain in Kansas until I get that state all cleaned up, which means, joint or bottle of liquor remaining unpatcheted; then I'll begin my work in other states.

"Will I come to St. Louis? Well, I have invitations to so many places that I can't promise now. But I want to write something for the Post-Dispatch, to my sisters in St. Louis, and I want you to print it on the front page."

Mrs. Nation darted out of the parlor into her own room across the hall. Five minutes later she returned with a sheet of copy paper filled with her signed message to her St. Louis sisters.

"Mrs. Nation, do you know that there is a new saloon in St. Louis named for you, with a hatchet painted on the front door?"

At this Mrs. Nation's expansive smile made a lightning change to an expression of wrath. She leaned forward and said:

"Is that so? I'll prosecute that man. He is misusing my name; he is prostituting it, in a way that he knows I despise and abhor; couldn't do anything to injure me more. Now I want you to tell your mayor and prosecuting attorney to prosecute that bad brother and I'll be in St. Louis at the trial. I won't smash his place; it will hurt him worse to be arrested and tried. Now, mind me, you must do this, and Carrie Nation will make it warm for that man."

Mrs. Nation was elated over her day's work as an editor. She read the Journal while she talked.

"Did you know those whisky advertisements were to be printed in the Journal?" she was asked.

"No, I didn't. When I saw the paper I didn't like that; but then I reflected that it was just as well to sit at the table with publicans and sinners, for the benefit of the sinners. Whisky men who would not buy the paper if it was all temperance will have a chance to read some good advice, and it may convert them."

At this point W. A. Brubaker, her assistant editor in Peoria manager, entered and had a bad quarter of an hour. He spoke of the evening lecture and the crusader said:

"I'm to have all the receipts, accoerding to my contract."

"Your contract was for $50," said Mr. Brubaker.

Mrs. Nation's face assumed an air of Yankee shrewdness. She pointed her finger at her manager and said:

"Now, look here; is somebody trying to make money out of me because I consented to come here? Nobody shall make any money out of this trip. The proceeds of the lecture belong to me, and that must be understood."

"But the hall costs something."

"Of course; take out the expenses, but the rest belongs to me."

Mrs. Nation told the Post-Dispatch that she intended to accept offers to edit other papers, and she would do better work than in Peoria, as she would take more time to prepare the matter for publication.

"I didn't know how enormous a task it was to edit a daily," she said, "and I worked at my writing only an hour before I left the Topeka jail. I received a telegram to send some copy at once, but I wrote nearly everything after I got here. I got up at 3 o'clock in the morning and went to work. The Lord told me just what to write in that address to Peoria brewers. He told me during the night. That was the Lord's message. He tells me every night something to say."

MRS. NATION INDORSED.

Colorado Prohibitionists Resolve That Her Work Is Praiseworthy.

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 27.—At the state conference of the Prohibition party resolutions indorsing the work of Mrs. Nation were passed. The resolutions follow:

"Resolved, That the Prohibitionists of Colorado, in state convention assembled, heartily indorse the work of Mrs. Carrie Nation in Kansas, believing that it will be the beginning of the end of saloon rule in the United States. We pray that God may spare her life and speed the great work that she has begun."

BILL AT STATE CAPITOL.

World's Fair Measure Will Receive Prompt Consideration.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 27.—The bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the St. Louis World's Fair, providing also for the appointment of five commissioners by the governor, to disburse this sum, and specifying that at least one Missouri building at the fair shall be constructed exclusively of Missouri material, was received here today and will be considered by the Louisiana Purchase Centennial committee at once.

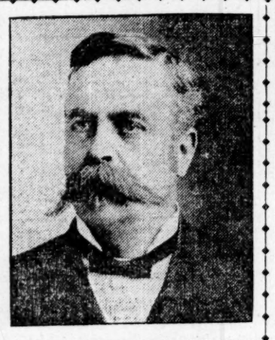

CHIEF KIELY HAS NO PLANS

Says He Has Not Yet Outlined His Policy.

WILL TAKE CHARGE FRIDAY

CAMPBELL WILL BE RETAINED AS A CAPTAIN.

Mayor Ziegenhein's Purpose Was to Elect Mr. Woerner President of the Board of Police Commissioners.

ASSISTANT CHIEF G. C. GILLASPY.

A member of the police board said to the Post-Dispatch, prior to the meeting Wednesday afternoon, which was a continuation of the previous day's session, that no changes would be made in the department at this meeting. He said:

"William Desmond will remain chief of detectives and James Smith assistant chief, with John Keeley acting assistant chief during the absence of Mr. Desmond at Hot Springs, Ark. What changes may be made later I cannot say.

"Chief Kiely will probably be allowed to name his own secretary and stenographer. So far as I know, there will be no wholesale changes in the department.

"The first task before the board will be the compilation of a new manual governing the department, and a committee will be appointed at once to prepare this book, which will probably require two or three months.

"Only routine business will be transacted at this afternoon's meeting unless something unforeseen should happen."

The decision of the members of the board to defer the proposed changes in the detective department is supposed to have been caused by the absence of Chief Desmond from the city. If Keeley should be appointed assistant chief while Desmond is away it would necessitate his acting as chief, while a new acting assistant chief would have to be named during the interim.

Chief Kiely said that he had not decided upon anyone for his secretary.

Former Chief Campbell, it was stated Wednesday, would be transferred to either the Tenth or Fourth District as captain, while former Assistant Chief Pickel would secure a similar berth, both changes taking effect Friday.

Chief Kiely's Moving Day.

Chief of Police Mathew Kiely will take charge of the department Friday morning, when Capt. John W. Campbell will assume command of one of the districts. The other changes will become effective at the same time.

Chief Kiely was at his accustomed post at the Fourth district station Wednesday morning, where he received the congratulations of a number of friends upon his appointment.

"I have no particular policy to outline," said the new chief to the Post-Dispatch. "There will be time enough for that after I get located at the Four Courts. There are some matters which must be straightened up here before I leave, and I suppose Chief Campbell is similarly situated. I will spend today and tomorrow getting my desk in shape for my successsor.

"Will there be a crusade against any particular form of vice? So far as I know there will not. My only ambition is to administer the duties of my office fearlessly and honestly, and to preserve law and order in the city. I want to make the St. Louis police department the best in the country."

The appointment of Capt. Kiely as chief of police and Capt. G. C. Gillaspy of the Tenth district as assistant chief, following closely upon Chief Campbell's announced willingness to accept a captaincy, all of which was told exclusively in the late editions of the Post-Dispatch Tuesday, cleared the atmosphere around the Four Courts somewhat. After making these appointments the board adjourned until Wednesday afternoon, leaving the slate uncompleted.

Mayor Ziegenhein stated after the meeting that the vote for chief had been 3 to 2, he and Mr. Woerner voting for Capt. Young. Several ballots were taken for assistant chief, Capt. Gillaspy's name being finally decided upon after it was stated that his appointment would leave a vacancy in Chief Campbell's old district, to which the latter could be returned as captain.

Mayor Ziegenhein's plan, as given out by himself before the meeting, was to elect Mr. Woerner president of the board instead of Harry B. Hawes. This plan was defeated by the refusal of Mr. Woerner to allow the use of his name for president. Commissioner Blong, whom the mayor expected to vote for Mr. Woerner, suported Mr. Hawes.

Chief Kiely is a native of Limerick, Ireland, and came to America when 18 years of age. He located in St. Louis in 1872 and was appointed a patrolman June 30, 1875. He was promoted to sergeant in 1882 and to captain in 1890.

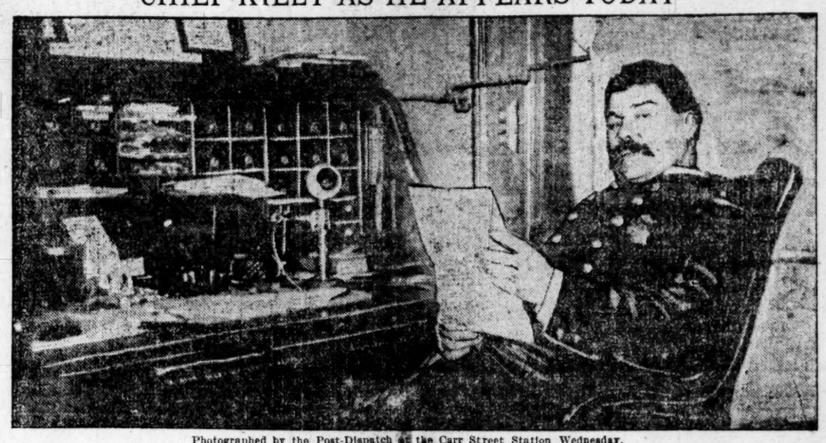

Five years later he became assistant chief and during Chief Harrigan's illness was acting chief of police. In 1898 he was reduced to captain and placed in charge of the Fourth district. He will be 49 years old March 8.

Assistant Chief C. G. Gillaspy was born July 29, 1854, in Monroe County, Mo. He was reared at Columbia, Mo., and served as deputy sheriff before coming to St. Louis in 1875. He was appointed a probationary patrolman in 1876; patrolman in 1877; sergeant in 1889, and captain in 1899.

Thrown From Wagon.

Hugh McMenamy, a teamster, was thrown from a wagon belonging to the Polar Wave Ice Co. in a collision with a Transit car at Belt and Delmar avenue Tuesday afternoon. His leg was broken in two places between the calf and the ankle. He was removed to his boarding house at 6138 Gambleton place. Dr. J. S. Hixon of 614 Compton avenue dressed the injuries.

THE FAIR BILL LOOKS BRIGHTER

Speaker Henderson Comes to Its Releif.

CONFERENCE MAY BE HELD.

CHARLESTON APPROPRIATION TO BE TACKED T OANOTHER MEASURE.

The St. Louis Delegation Is Not Losing a Moment and Utilizing Every Opportunity to Advance the Bill.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The St. Louis World's Fair promoters resumed work early this morning and by 12 o'clock had scored an important point in their favor.

This was a promise from Speaker Henderson to recognize Chairman Tawney at the first opportunity to move disagreement with the Senate amendments and consent to the conference requested by the Senate. Before the speaker would consent to this he had to be furnished a positive assurance from Mr. Tawney that the Charleston amendment would be defeated.

To make sure of this Tawney had polled the House and found enough strength to work this out.

"But," said the speaker, "if you fail in this, Tawney, I will never again intrust you with such an important matter."

The Charleston men have been working as hard as have the St. Louisans. Their scheme is to fight for their appropriation, after it is killed in the House. The chances are they will get it put on the sundry civil bill.

The House was occupied during the greater part of the day with conference reports on the army, District of Columbia and other bills which had right of way under the rules.

THE MAYOR FEELS SLIGHTED.

Says He Has No Influence in the New Police Board.

Mayor Ziegenhein is not pleased with the result of his first day's efforts as a member of the new board of police commissioners. He declared to the Post-Dispatch Wednesday morning that he expected to attend the future meetings of the board, but had given up all hope of influencing its policy.

"All there is for Uncle Henry to do at the police board meetings," the mayor declared, "is to fold his arms, sit back and look wise. I thought perhaps this new board would give the mayor of St. Louis, who was elected by the people of St. Louis, a show, but they won't do it.

"They held a caucus yesterday and fixed everything up before the board meeting. Then when the board meeting commenced everything I suggested was voted down. I thought we might get Mr. Woerner in as president of the board, but they wouldn't have it that way.

"Then they turned out the chief, and, let me tell you, they were putting out a good man when they did it. I don't want to say anything about the new chief. I don't know much about him, and I won't have any say-so about how he shall manage the force. The rest of the board will look out for that.

"Now that I have started going to the board meetings I am going to keep on attending, but—Oh, well, nichts komm heraus —you know what I mean. When General Lewis was vice-president of the board, and I was president, they always recognized me. I would tell General Lewis, 'Here, you preside; you are a lawyer; just let me sit beside you here.' And when it came to naming policemen and transacting the business of the board, Uncle Henry got his fair share of recognition.

"But when the new law came in, I found out how things had turned and quit attending. It was no use. And it is no use now. But I shall keep on going as long as I am mayor. They can't keep me out, and maybe I can get in a word edgewise now and then."

MAY GIVE BRAVE BOY A MEDAL

PHINEAS WARREN. FLORENCE WARREN.

—Photographed by the Post-Dispatch.

These East St. Louis children attacked a burglar. The girl held the man's coat while the boy shot at him.

Schoolmates of Phineas Warren contemplate raising a fund with which to purchase him a medal for bravery.

The 12-year-old boy, who was shot through the calf of the leg in a pistol duel with a burglar at the Warren home Monday noon, passed a restful night.

Dr. Henry Moeller says he will recover unless blood poison shall develop.

Phineas is an unusually bright lad. He said to the Post-Dispatch: "If I had had the shotgun which I gave to my grandfather two weeks ago I would have fixed that burglar."

Phineas believes his bullet hit the burglar as the man screamed when the shot was fired.

The boy's sister Florence is suffering from a slight shock due to overexcitement.

The son's excuse was that he had been drinking.

Sent to Workhouse.

William Murphy was given a 30-days term in the workhouse Wednesday by Judge Sidener for brutality toward his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Murphy of 3007 Atlantic street. Mrs. Murphy testified that her son threatened to throw a heavy lamp at her, and, in other ways, kept her in a state of terror for an hour Tuesday night.

Runaway Girl.—Josie Krull, the 13-year-old child who ran away from her home at 912 Wash street Sunday evening, because she was afraid of a whipping, was found on Thirteenth and Carr streets by the police Wednesday morning. She refused to say where she had been.

Investigations by Post-Dispatch reporters show that within the last five years several men have been employed by the United States engineering department in work along the river between St. Louis and Cairo, Ill., whose initials are E. H., the same as those of the victim of the Kaskaskia box mystery.

Of this group of government employes the description of the dead man fits Edward Heffernan more closely than any of the others.

Late Wednesday afternoon Heffernan was found by the Post-Dispatch at work in a quarry one mile south of Jefferson Barracks.

Another man suggested as the victim is Edward Hussey, who it was said at the City Dispensary was treated by Dr. Bruere about two years ago.

Hussey was well known in Carondelet.

Saloon Keeper Koeln, who operates business in the 7600 block on South Broadway, told the Post-Dispatch Wednesday afternoon that the description of the box victim reminded him of Hussey, whom he had not seen in 18 months. He had heard, he said, that Hussey died on a steamboat.

MURDER THEORY IS UPHELD

Residents of Kaskaskia Have Many Reasons Which They Cite as Evidence There Was Foul Play.

CHESTER, Ill., Feb. 27.—It is the opinion of the farmers around Kaskaskia From a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent. that the body of the man who was found on the river's edge last Sunday by James Moore was buried two years ago, and that it floated into Kaskaskia on a freshet three weeks ago.

The farmers and others who view the body heartily indorse Deputy Coroner Devine's verdict that the man was murdered and his body forced into the oblong box and buried on some spot near the river's edge.

Charles Hierschbach, a wealthy Kaskaskia farmer, says that he saw the box in the place where it was found two weeks ago. He said he tried to turn it over. It was so heavy that he could not move it, and he thought no more of it until he heard of the discovery made by young Moore.

William Morrison, a nephew of former Congressman William R. Morrison, born and reared on Kaskaskia Island, was one of the jurors in the case. He viewed the body and said that he had no idea how long the man had been dead.

"That the box has been in the ground for at least two years will admit of no doubt," said Mr. Morrison to the Post-Dispatch. Its condition indicates this plainly. The top of the box is made of pine boards. If it had been in the water the decay of the wood would have been equal. As it is one can see where the earthworms have bored and where the roots have penetrated the soft wood. The other parts of the box being made of solid oak the worms did not penetrate so easily."

At Duparro's saloon it was stated Wednesday afternoon that Heffernan was alive and at work in a quarry below the Barracks.

It is the theory of nearly everyone in the vicinity that the man was murdered. It is pointed out that the burial was hurried. The box was certainly not intended for a coffin. It was not long enough by several inches to accommodate the body. The box is 5 feet 8 inches long. The man must have been six feet tall. The man's head was severed. It is possible that when the corpse was crowded into the box his neck may have been broken.

The coroner's verdict is: "We, the jury, do find that the deceased came to his death by foul means. His head was severed." Dr. John McMenamy, who served as foreman of the jury, said he could not tell how the head was severed. He says it is possible that it was cut off with a knife or other sharp instrument. The bones of the neck are in such a condition that he could not positively state.

Coroner Devine says that murder is the only reasonable theory. He cites the finding of the money in the pockets. He says that if the man were buried by his friends they would not furnish him so crude a coffin, while he had $15 in money in his pockets. Neither would they have buried the money with him. Had the man been buried by his friends he would not have been buried without his coat.

The coroner says that the box is probably a watering trough. It is of two-inch oaken timbers, and is nailed together with 20-penny wire spikes. The box would easily hold water. The fact that the box was converted into an impromptu coffin is further evidenced by the fact that the lid is made of pine boards, probably taken from some goods box and hurriedly nailed on. Had the box been made for a coffin the lid would have been made of the same material as the rest of the box.

That the man was not murdered for his money is evidenced by the finding of the three five dollar bills in his pockets. Mr. Devine thinks he was murdered either for revenge at some point north of Kaskaskia, probably St. Louis, or in the heat of anger, and his murderers disposed of the body in this way to destroy the evidence.

Citizens of Chester as well as Kaskaskia are greatly excited over the mystery, but the authorities do not know where to begin to unravel it.

The body was found at a point 150 feet northwest of where the old state house stood. It is buried in the old Catholic cemetery, nearly a mile down the stream, under the shadows of the old court house, built in 1820. The river has made no encroachments on the cemetery yet, although it has swept away most of the ground on which stood a city of 15,000 inhabitants more than half a century ago.

BRIDE DRANK LAUDANUM

Worried Over Her Husband's Imprisonment Until Her Mind Became Temporarily Unbalanced.

Mrs. Rosa Lindhoff, a bride of six months, and only 18 years of age, attempted to kill herself at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the house of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Wilson, 4309 Duncan avenue, by swallowing 10 cents worth of laudanum.

She was hurried to the City Hospital, where, after working for some time, the physicians pronounced her out of danger.

"My husband, John Lindhoff, was sent to jail at Clayton on a charge of robbing a freight car," said Mrs. Lindhoff. "I thought of the matter until it seemed to me that I could bear the disgrace no longer, so today I went to his mother's home and tried to end my troubles."

Mrs. Lindhoff stated that a month after their marriage she left her husband, but was induced to return to him. Since his arrest she has been stopping with friends at 525 South Boyle avenue. Her maiden name was Covin, and she has no relatives in the city except her mother.

AGAINST BELL TELEPHONE.

Discussion of Federal Court in the Berliner Patent Case.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 27.—Judge Brown of the United States Circuit Court has decided against the American Bell Telephone Co., in the famous Berliner patent case.

The suits were the Bell company against the National Telephone Manufacturing Co., and same against the Century Telephone Co., brought to restrain respondents from selling, using or making telephones or telephonic apparatus with the microphone attachment and to account to the Bell company for past use, manufacture and sales, upon the ground that such was an infringement of patent.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 27.—It is reported that Edward A. Cudahy has received a letter from the men who kidnapped his son, offering to return $20,000 of the ransom money on condition that all detectives be withdrawn and that no attempt be made to prosecute the abductors, should their identity be discovered. It is understood that the letter was mailed at Council Bluffs.

COURT BUILDING ON FIRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The Criminal Court building, located at Center and Franklin streets, is on fire. The northwest corner, from the top floor to the roof, is ablaze. The fire started in a storeroom in the attic and the entire building is threatened.

Recorder Goff was charging a jury when the fire was discovered. He immediately dismissed the jury and all parties. The other courts had just adjourned. The grandjury was forced to adjourn. Many prisoners, who were in the building, were removed to the Tombs. The stone floor and tile roofing acted as a check to the flames. The building is being deluged with water.

CRUCIBLE STEEL STOCK UP.

Stock Advanced on Report Company to Be Taken by Morgan.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 27.—Ten thousand shares of Crucible Steel common stock were sold at the first call of the Pittsburg Stock Exchange today at 26⅜ to 27¼, as against 25½ yesterday afternoon. The demand for the stock was due to a report that the Crucible Steel Co. probably would be included in the great steel deal.

Negotiations, it is said, are under way which it is thought will end in the company becoming a part of Morgan's giant combination.

Chairman C. H. Holcomb and Treasurer Reuben Miller, Jr., are now in New York, and the report says they are conferring with the representatives of the United States Steel Co.

The Crucible Steel Co. controls ninety-five per cent of the output. The capitalization is $25,000,000, each of common and preferred stock.

NEW STAR IN MIDSKY

DISCOVERED FEB. 22

OF DAZZLING BRILLIANCE

Its Growth Astonishes Observers, and It Bids Fair to Eclipse the Polar Star; How to Find It.

THE NEW STAR'S POSITION IN THE HEAVENS.

The diagram is a chart of the sky west of the point overhead early in the evening. Capella at that time is near the zenith.

Nova Persei is one of the brightest stars visible. This is how to find it:

First look at Capella, which is the very brightest star close to the zenith in the early evenings, at present. Then look directly west. A triangle of ordinary stars will be found, with Nova Persei directly in the middle.

Persei is about twice as far from the north star as from Capella. It is fully as bright as Capella. The triangle is made up of Alpha, Persei, Beta Persei and Epsilon Persei.

The earth's distance from the sun is 93,000,000 miles. The distance of the new star from the earth is not less than six million times the earth's distance from the sun. Therefore by a quick mental calculation one can compute that the distance of the new star from the earth is about 558,000,000,000,000 miles. A locomotive traveling 60 miles an hour and starting from the earth would reach this new star in 387,500,000,000 days.

THE new star discovered on the night of Feb. 22 by Prof. T. D. Anderson of Edinburgh, Scotland, in the constellation of Perseus, is said to be the brightest discovered in 300 years.

The new luminary is directly west of Capella and nearly as bright as that star.

On the night of the discovery Prof. Anderson found its magnitude to be 2.7, or about as bright as the north star. It had apparently flared up suddenly.

This star was observed at the Harvard Observatory Feb. 24. Although the sky was not clear, it was seen to be of the first magnitude and considerably brighter than at the time of its discovery.

The new star was viewed again by Harvard, a day later with the naked eye. It was closely examined and photographed with a powerful telescope. It is considered by Dr. Pickering, chief observer there, as the most important astronomical discovery in several years.

It was stated at Harvard that the photographs taken before Feb. 19 did not reveal the presence of the star, although later examination of them may throw additional light on this point, but the photograph of Feb. 19 indicated the star's presence for the first time.

The star then shone so faintly that it was difficult to see it with the naked eye, but within four days it had flared up till it exceeded in brightness the north star. This rapid increase in light-giving is exceptional. On Feb. 22, when Dr. Anderson of Edinburgh first noticed the star, its magnitude was 2.7; two days later it was of the first magnitude, brighter than the north star.

The constellation Perseus may be readily seen with the naked eyes early in the evening rather high up in the heavens to the northwest. The brightest star in the group is now Algenib. Formerly it was surpassed in brilliancy by Algol, which is, with one exception, the most noted variable star in the heavens. Algol—"the Demon"—changes in brightness through seven magnitudes, a recent observer having advanced the theory that its variability is due to a nebulous satellite which revolves about and obscures it at times.

Several years ago the Harvard astronomers discovered another star in Perseus which proved to be a double star. The star discovered three centuries ago, with which the new one is said to rank in brilliancy, was Tycho Brahe, in the chair of the constellation Cassiopeia. It was discovered Nov. 8, 1572, by Cornelius Gemma, and was named for Tycho Brahe, the celebrated ancient astronomer. It was visible for 16 months, and then disappeared in March, 1574.

THREE WOMEN WERE IN PARTY

THEY ASSAULTED BRIDE WHILE MAN STABBED MOORE.

Latter, Whose Death Is Expected, Says He Knows Members of the Attacking Party—Authorities Are Investigating.

Because Edward Moore, living on the Old Cahokia road, south of East St. Louis, married the object of a jealous rival's affections, he says, he was probably fatally stabbed Tuesday night, his wife driven from home and his house was nearly destroyed by fire.

The wound, inflicted with a dagger, is in the left breast.

Dr. A. E. Linder attended the man and has but little hopes of his recovery.

Moore says the attacking party was composed of three women and one man—all known to him.

They visited his home at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, three hours after his marriage ceremony was performed.

He alleges that they broke in the door and proceeded to give him and his wife a severe beating while they were in bed.

The women, he says, attacked Mrs. Moore, pulled her hair and tried to set fire to her night dress.

She finally escaped and ran six blocks to arouse neighbors.

The women pursued her.

Moore, left alone with his assailant, engaged in a desperate encounter with him that lasted ten minutes. They fought by the flickering light of a coal stove that was finally overturned and set fire to the building.

Moore was stabbed and fell unconscious to the floor. The flames were raging about his body when his wife and the rescuing party returned to the house. The fire was extinguished with difficulty.

Moore says the three women who assisted in the attack were angry because he had married.

County authorities are investigating his story.

PROMINENT LADIES

Use and Recommend Pe-ru-na for Catarrhal Weakness.

[All Readers of This Paper Should Be Sure to Read and Heed the Following Statements.]

Postmistress Mrs. Lucy A. Clark.

This prominent lady writes the following letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O., in regard to their medicine, Peruna:

"Peruna has for some time been the only medicine I have used for myself and family. I have found it very good in cases of la grippe, as it seems to throw the illness quickly and effectively out of the system. In cases of extreme weariness or frequent backache it dispels the uncomfortable feeling, and by occasional use it maintains the body in a healthy condition."

Lucy A. Clark, Postmistress Farmington, Utah.

Mrs. Lucy A. Clark, Postmistress of Farmington, Utah, has held many prominent positions in her state. She is Vice-President of the Utah State Council of Women, charter member Utah Women's Press Club, was Vice-President Lady Managers of Utah Columbian Exposition, and was a delegate to National Woman's Association at the convention at Washington, D. C.

Backache.

To be free from backache is a luxury that many women hardly ever realize. "It seems as if my back would break," is an expression often heard.

Of course there are many other causes for backache besides pelvic catarrh, but this is by far the most frequent cause. The backache becomes to such women a sort of physiological barometer by which they can tell the approach of a storm, or the recurrence of a menstrual period.

The large muscles of the back have become so weakened by the exhaustive drain, that instead of sustaining the delicate mechanism of the woman's anatomy, they remain loose and flabby, serving only as the seat of myalgia or neuralgia, or else muscular rheumatism. Ache and pain seems to be the only use such muscles are good for.

Mrs. Caroline Sundheimer, Grandin, Mo., writes the following to Dr. Hartman in regard to Peruna: "I am feeling quite well now. I can work again and am stronger than I have been for years, and I do believe that Peruna saved my life. I am very thankful to you for your advice. I will advise all I can to take your medicine."—Mrs. Caroline Sundheimer.

Mrs. Caroline Sundheimer

Mrs. Maria Goertz of Cleo, O. T., writes:

"Dr. Hartman's remedies have proven to be reliable and wonderful. Their effect upon the system is remarkable. Peruna quiets the nerves, and is a great specific for all forms of chronic catarrh.

"I am very glad to say that I can write you that I am cured in every way of catarrh, with which I suffered terribly for 10 years. Ten years ago my liver, stomach and kidneys began to cause me trouble. For two years I had colic and cramps, which grew worse; I had nervous fevers, and it seemed as if I was sick from head to foot. I not only had catarrh of the head, nose and throat, but the catarrh had invaded the whole system: the mucous membranes of the whole body were unable to perform their functions. The pelvic organs were also affected, and I had female trouble so bad I could not walk.

"But now I have regained my health again and I cannot thank you enough for your advice. May God give you a long life and bless your work."—Mrs. Maria Goertz.

Why Suffer Longer?

It would be well-nigh impossible to enumerate all the consequences to a woman's life which naturally result from a neglected case of pelvic catarrh. Whatever they are there can be no doubt that in most cases it is entirely unnecessary for them to continue. An intelligent course of treatment with Peruna will in most cases effect an entire cure.

Peruna Prevented an Operation.

Mrs. Minnie Steeves, President Illinois Woman's Alliance, writes from 42 Delaware place, Chicago, Ill.:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

"Gentlemen—Ever since my son, now grown, was born I have suffered with some peculiar weakness of the pelvic organs which no medicine seemed to reach.

"My physicians finally suggested an operation, which I was considering, when my sister asked me to try Peruna as a last resort. She had used it and been greatly helped. Peruna simply worked wonders with my whole system, and in a few weeks the pains began to go away. I felt so much better that I kept on taking it and am now in perfect health. I give great praise to this splendid medicine, and certainly advise suffering women to try it when all else fails."—Mrs. Minnie Steeves.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

ORDERS TO GEN. WOOD

SECRETARY ROOT TALKED TO HIM BY WIRE LAST NIGHT.

ALL NEGOTIATIONS STOPPED

The United States Will Wait Until Ready and Will Hold the Isle of Pines.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Secretary Root was in communication with Gen. Wood last night, and there was a long conference between them on the subject of the Cuban amendment to the army appropriation bill. The communication was by direct wire. The conference was a protracted one, and in the course of it Secretary Root gave the governor the full text of the amendment. After hearing his views on the subject, he gave him certain instructions, the nature of which is not divulged.

It is understood that Gen. Wood will now cease his efforts to hurry the Cuban convention in its formulation of a plan of international relations. Originally it was the design of the administration that the first proposition should come from Cuba, but now that the United States is taking the initiative, there is not the same motive for haste that there was before.

The principal reason for giving Gen. Wood the full text of the resolutions at once was to forestall comments on the American policy which would result from a partial report of the amendment in the Havana papers today. An erroneous impression seems to exist regarding the clause of the amendment which postponed the question of the ownership of the Isle of Pines, and provides that it shall be decided by treaty. It has been intimated that this indicates a purpose on the part of the United States to claim the Isle of Pines or to hold it for the execution of further favors. It is stated on high authority that the clause was inserted as a concession to the Cubans.

The American right to the Isle of Pines is undoubted, Spain having ceded it to us by the Paris treaty. But the Cubans have so plainly indicated their desire to possess it that the administration proposes as a compromise to let the question go over until after the Cuban government shall be in operation.

WARRANT ISSUED FOR KIEFER.

Charged With Keeping a Common Gambling House.

George Keifer, keeper of a saloon at Folsom and Tower Grove avenues, is charged in a warrant issued Wednesday morning with keeping a common gaming house. The warrant was issued on the information of William Peckham of 1122 Boyle avenue.

Peckham swore that on Sunday evening he, with Arthur Williams and Arthur Present, both residing at 1122 Boyle avenue, took part in a craps game in the cellar of Keifer's place with two other men. Peckham stated further that when he drew out several bills from his pocket the lights were turned out and his money seized. He said that when the lights were turned on again his money and the men were gone.

SURPRISED.

Flavor of Food Won Her.

"When the landlady told me that the new dish at my plate was the much talked of food, Grape-Nuts, I tasted it languidly expecting the usual tasteless, insipid compound posing under some one of the various names of 'breakfast foods.'

"I am a school teacher, and board. Have usually been in robust health, but last spring I had the much dreaded symptoms of spring fever set in with great severity. I could hardly keep at my work and headaches were almost constant. Food had become nauseating and I only partook of any sort of food from a sense of duty.

"My nights were spent in distress. The first taste of Grape-Nuts yielded a flavor that was new and attracted me at once. I arose from the table satisfied, having enjoyed my meal as I had not done for weeks. So I had Grape-Nuts food for breakfast every day, and soon found other reasons besides my taste for continuing the food.

"All of the spring fever symptoms disappeared, the headaches left, my complexion cleared up, and after a supper of Grape-Nuts I found myself able to sleep like a baby, in spite of a hard day and hard evening's work. The food has never palled on my appetite nor failed in furnishing a perfect meal, full of strength and vigor. I know from my own experience, of the value of this food for any one who feels strength lagging under the strain of work, and it is evident that the claim made by the makers that it is a brain food is well taken. Please omit my name if you publish this." The lady lives in Hanover, Ind. Name supplied by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

MORE MONEY FOR CLERKS.

Additions Made to Appropriations for State Officials.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 27.—The Senate took up the appropriation bill for the salaries of state officers today. Several material amendments to the original bill were adopted.

The salary of the governor's stenographer is increased from $1200 to $1500 a year; chief clerk to superintendent of public schools is raised from $1200 to $2000 per annum.

An amendment giving the secretary of state an additional $4000 for clerical hire carried. This amount was allowed the state secretary two years ago, and it was shown the business of the department had materially increased in the intervening period. The state auditor, by amendment, is allowed an additional $3000. The commissioner of the permanent seat of government receives an increase of from $600 to $900 a year, in accordance with amendment submitted.

EXAMINING BOARD MEETS.

All Barbers Must Procure New Certificates From It.

The Missouri State Board of Examiners for Barbers held its first meeting since last July in the Holland building Wednesday. The law creating the board has been tied up in the courts by a suit instituted by Dan Lucas of Kansas City, but the Supreme Court last week declared it constitutional and the board will proceed to issue certificates to barbers.

Those present at the meeting Wednesday were: J. L. Hanks, Kansas City, president; J. J. Ryan, St. Louis, secretary, and V. E. Burch, St. Joseph, recently appointed in place of J. J. Forsting of St. Louis. New officers will be elected Wednesday night.

All certificates issued by the board lapsed Jan. 1 and must be renewed at a cost of $1. All barbers in the cities of St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, who did not take out a certificate before, must now stand examination, at a cost of $5 each, and secure a certificate, which is good for one year. The headquarters of the board are in room 423 of the Holland building.

ANTI-WINEROOM BILLS.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 27.—The Senate committee on criminal jurisprudence reported without recommendation today the three bills to amend the present dramshop laws of St. Louis, which were strenuously advocated by the St. Louis anti-wine room crusade.

The committee's action virtually means the anti-wineroom measures will receive no further consideration at the hands of the upper branch of the assembly.

Up to Date Service.

Every New Yorker is interested in each move made by the New York Central to improve its magnificent service, and in the eyes of the average stranger, whether native or foreign, the New York Central is an example of what the Empire State of the Union can do.

We therefore note with pride the up-to-date character of the dining car service on the great four-track line. In a menu on one of the afternoon trains from New York recently we noticed "broiled breast of prairie chicken with currant jelly" among the list of delectable viands prepared for its patrons. Its pure spring water from the foothills of the Adirondack Mountains, served free, is another delightful idea, and on the Empire State Express they are now serving almost every dish that you could get on an a la carte dining car, and those dishes are hot and appetizing. Recently broiled bacon with eggs and broiled ham with eggs have been added to the menu.

This, it will be understood, is on a train where the travel is so heavy that it is almost impossible to haul a dining car, but with their new buffet broiler service the Central is handling it in splendid shape.—Albany Press-Knickerbocker-Express.

VETERANS ARE OFFENDED

They Have Been Sent to the Rear of the Inaugural Procession and Refuse to Parade.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, who was appointed marshal of the fourth division of the inaugural parade, which was to consist of the Grand Army of the Republic and other veteran organizations, declared last night that he had no command, because the veterans had refused to parade. The reason, it is said, for their withdrawal is that they are displeased with the position assigned them in the line. They insisted on being either the escort to the President or having the right of the line.

According to the program President McKinley will be escorted by the army and navy cadets and Troop A of Cleveland O. The regulars will head the parade, followed by the District of Columbia militia and the National Guard organization from the various states. Then will come the veterans, if they parade.

Gen. Sickles said last night that the President desired the veterans as his escort and that he sent Adjutant-General Corbin to see Gen. Greene to acquaint him with his wishes. Gen. Sickles says Gen. Greene issued orders, however, placing the veterans in the fourth division.

Gen. Greene denied last night that he had received any word from the White House in relation to the position the veterans should have in the parade.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE FIGHT.

The State Capital Is Full of Friends and Foes of the Hall Bill.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 27.—An understanding was reached yesterday between the friends and opponents of the "doctors' bill," designed to drive the Christian Scientists and a few other people out of the healing business, that the bill should be called up for passage today. The bill is on the calendar for third reading, but far enough down not to be reached in the regular order of business.

Accordingly, doctors and Christian Scientists from the cities and some country doctors came hurrying to the capital last night and this morning. When the House met many members had their family physician sitting alongside of them, telling the latest news from home and how the people are rising up with one accord to demand the passage of the bill. Christian Scientists hung on the rail at the rear of the hall dividing the lobby from the House. Everywhere there were evidence of the intense interest and hatred between the two sides.

Dr. Jones who, next to Hall of Saline, has more to do with the fight from the doctors' side, made a bitter speech on the St. Louis election law. To the Republicans he said:

"'Stand up and take your medicine. Don't whine and cry about it. You are going to get it in great big doses and you might as well stand it."

Hawthorne interrupted Jones and asked, "Is that the way that you mean to give us the doctor's bill?"

"Yes, I believe in allopathic doses in medicine and I'm going to give it to you in politics," said Jones excitedly.

As a result of this remark the Republican leaders lined up their members today in favor of voting solidly against the Hall medical bill, so that it is now in serious danger.

Stewart of Knox called up in the House for engrossment today his bill to repeal the corrupt practice act to prevent candidates from buying votes. Dickinson and Goiden attacked the bill as a measure that would lead to all kinds of election corruption and the House got rid of the bill by indefinitely postponing it.

ROLLINS' ANTI-NARCOTIC BILL.

It Has Passed the Senate With Important Amendments by Its Author.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 27.—Senator Rollins' bill requiring the manufacturers of patent medicines to print the formula of their goods on the wrapper or package when the product contains morphine, opium or any other narcotic, which was recently sent to engrossment by the Senate, was reconsidered today. In view of the volume of protests against the bill Rollins stated that he would offer two amendments, which he believes will overcome all objections. One provides that the manufacturers of medicine containing morphine, etc., shall inscribe on the wrapper the quantity of the same which is used in the preparation. The second specifies that the law shall not take effect until one year after its passage. Rollins explained this last feature by saying there was one drug firm in St. Louis which now had on hand $75,000 worth of patent medicines, which would be absolutely valueless for sale in Missouri if this bill became a law at this time.

The bill, with the amendment, was adopted, the following senators favoring it: Clark, Collins, Davisson, Drabelle, Haynes, Jewell, Morton, Orchard, Ramp, Rollins, Rubey, Schoenlaub, Smith, Sullivan, Walker, Whaley.

KRATZ AND BESCH MAKE UP.

They Will Work Together for Nomination of Zachritz.

City Register Henry Besch and Councilman Charles Kratz, who have for more than a year been bitter rivals for supremacy in Republican politics in the Tenth Ward, have buried the hatchet and are working in harmony for the nomination of Judge Zachritz for mayor. Mr. Besch declares that he is supporting Judge Zachritz because of personal friendship, while Councilman Kratz's attitude is ascribed to his hostility to Mayor Ziegenhein, who is actively supporting George W. Parker. Besch and Kratz were formerly political allies, and their united support of Zachritz has caused the Republican leaders at the City Hall to class the Tenth Ward as doubtful territory for Parker.

Besides Councilman Kratz, who is a member of the city central committee, three other committeemen are said to be open supporters of Zachritz. These are Charles Carroll of the Twenty-sixth Ward, Sam Peterson of the Twenty-eighth and Charles Witthoeft of the Second.

CALLS SAMPSON "ASS," "COWARD"

Severe Arraignment of the Admiral in the Senate

BY ALLEN OF NEBRASKA

BOTH SAMPSON AND SCHLEY HAVE LOST FAVOR.

As a Result of the Morgan Letter's Publication, Neither of the Famous Naval Officers Will Be Promoted.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. — Admiral Schley's own friends, in making public Admiral Sampson's remarkable letter, opposing Gunner Morgan's advancement, have killed not only Sampson's chance of becoming vice-admiral, but have ended all hope of Schley's getting higher rank from this Congress or the next, as he will be retired next October.

The correspondence was turned over to Sampson's bitterest newspaper enemy in the expectation that Schley's chances would be improved, but the Senate now, in all probability, will drop the entire fight.

Senator Allen yesterday, late, called Rear Admiral Sampson "a conceited ass," and "a rank and arrant coward." Mr. Allen, who is physically the strongest man in the Senate, closed his speech in the Senate with this suggestive statement:

"I want to say to Sampson and to his friends that I am responsible for what I say."

The Nebraskan had asked Senator Morgan, who was speaking on the army appropriation bill, to let him have five minutes to discuss the Spooner amendment. Mr. Allen discussed the amendment half a minute, and then, to the evident astonishment of Morgan, he read the now famous Sampson letter.

Allen said that he presupposed both letter and indorsement were genuine. He took it that the indorsement proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that there was "a snobbish aristocracy in the navy that is detrimental and a disgrace to the country.

"If William T. Sampson is the author of those indorsements," declared Mr. Allen with vehemence, "he is a conceited ass, and he ought to be marked down as such. We are not bringing up in this country a race of snobs. If I am correctly informed there was a time when Sampson was no better than Charles Morgan, the gunner.

"He came from no better stock. I am glad to repeat that we are not raising in the United States a class of bejeweled aristocrats. If this rank and arrant coward is to be believed the time may never come in this country when a poor boy may attain to such a position as his abilities warrant him in holding."

As Mr. Morgan rose to resume his speech Mr. Allen remarked:

"I want to say to Sampson and his friends that I am responsible for what I say."

Senator Chandler, who was somewhat excited, tried to get time from Senator Morgan in which to reply to Allen. He threatened, coaxed and pleaded with the Alabaman, but Senator Morgan would not yield and continued his speech.

Senator Chandler said later that he did not like to have an officer in the navy called a "conceited ass," and wanted to speak at the moment. He was not sure whether he would say anything now that the incident had passed. Pettigrew and Teller intended to speak about Sampson's indorsement on Gunner Morgan's application, and had Chandler been permitted to speak there would have been the most sensational day in the Senate in many moons.

While the navy appropriation bill was before the House Hepburn of Iowa made a speech, in which he said there ought not be a naval officer directly connected with the navy department. The usurpation of the naval officers at the heads of the bureaus was raising the service to an "aristocracy" and enabled the navy to lobby when legislation affecting the navy was before Congress.

Berry of Kentucky referred to the Sampson-Schley controversy and said it was still the evident purpose of the navy department to confer the highest honor upon the man who "was farthest away" at the battle of Santiago. Mr. Berry contrasted Sampson's attitude toward the men with that of Schley during the stress of battle in sending word to those below that all went well, and when the battle was over in saying that the victory belonged to the "men behind the guns."

GUNNER CHARLES MORGAN.

Charles Morgan, gun captain of the cruiser New York, whose promotion to ensign is objected to by Admiral Sampson on the ground that Morgan lacks the social graces which he believes a naval officer should have, was gun captain of the flagship New York during the blockade and battle of Santiago. He was at the head of the force of divers which explored the wreck of the Maine in Havana harbor in 1898, and was highly commended by naval officers for his excellent work in that connection. He is said to be one of the best divers in the navy. In the Maine work he made an average of seven hours a day under water, establishing a new record. He has been in the navy 20 years, but is still loyish in appearance. His home is at New Orleans, where he was presented with a jeweled sword and gold medal in 1898 in recognition of his work on the Maine wreck.

SAMPSON REFUSED TO TALK.

He Would Not Discuss Terms Applied to Him by Senator Allen.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 27.—Rear-Admiral Sampson was shown extracts from Senator Allen's speech calling him "a conceited ass" and a "rank and arrant coward." When asked for a statement he said he "desired to be excused from making any comment whatever on the speech."

Admiral Sampson, referring to his letter to the navy department relating to the commissioning of warrant officers, said that he had expressed his views solely in the interests of the service as he had come to know it and appreciate its requirements after a lifetime of duty aboard ship and ashore.

"The letter was an official communication," he said. "As an officer in the navy I am forbidden by the regulations to discuss it in any way for publication."

"THAT GREAT PAPER"

ARTICLE IN POST-DISPATCH READ TO MISSOURI LEGISLATORS.

BY THE CLERK OF THE HOUSE

It Contained Suggestions as to "Democratic Opportunity" in Respect to the Nesbit Law.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 27.—During the debate on the proposition to amend the Nesbit law, in the House yesterday, Representative Bothwell of Pettis County sent to the clerk's desk and had read the editorial in Monday's Post-Dispatch on "A Democratic Opportunity," wherein Gov. Dockery was urged to use his influence to have the majority in the Legislature amend the Nesbit law. Mr. Bothwell said the editorial was published in "that great newspaper, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch."

The editorial created a great deal of interest and comment throughout the debate, but being intended more for the governor than the Legislature it did not stem the flood-tide of bitter speeches against what the Republicans had done in Missouri when that party was in power.

Another article in the Post-Dispatch, calling attention to the anomalous position of the Republicans, who had been strenuously demanding local government and the divorce of state and county taxes, also awakened the Democratic members to the fact that they had neglected a great opportunity, and thus it happened that the majority party reconsidered and passed the resolution, while the Republican members never did repent of their conduct.

It is now for the Senate to say whether the resolution shall become a law. Real friends of corporate franchise taxation here regard this measure as one of the most important of the session, equal to that of the franchise bill and exceeding it in its effort to establish an entirely new system of taxation.

The practically unanimous action of the House yesterday in ordering to engrossment the bill appropriating $50,000 for the Pan-American Exposition was quite a victory for the friends of the measure and assures its final passage.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Rear Admiral Barker, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, said, referring to the Morgan affair:

"Of course, this country is a republic, and I believe in people being promoted on account of their merits. I cannot conceive of Admiral Sampson writing that letter when he was in his right mind."

HE IS AGUINALDO'S UNCLE.

New Governor of Bulacan, P. I., Was Once an Insurgent.

GUIGUINTO, Province of Bulacan, P. I., Feb. 27.—Jose Serapio, an uncle of Aguinaldo, and formerly an insurgent colonel, has been appointed governor of Bulacan province.

There were several candidates, including two army officers, but the United States commission was unanimously in favor of Serapio, who surrendered during Gen. Lawton's progress northward, and who has been since such a consistent friend of the United States that Aguinaldo published an order degrading his uncle.

DAYTON STREET POLICE COURT.

Patrolman Caudle, with a slightly disfigured face, appeared in the Dayton Street Police Court Wednesday, to prosecute James Wilcoxon, a motorman for the St. Louis Transit Co.

The evidence developed some amusing features. Wilcoxon admitted that he struck Caudle, but said that the policeman looked like anybody else to him at the time.

"You see, it was this way, judge," he explained. "I went to the saloon Saturday night for a little beer, and, while there, a man started a rough house. Everybody seemed to jump onto me, and it didn't make much difference to me whom I hit. This policeman came in wearing citizen's clothes and tackled me. I didn't know he was a policeman, and I gave him a punch in self defense."

Caudle corroborated Wilcoxon's statement that he was in citizen's clothes, and Judge Wheelgenus thought the motorman's statement at least raised a doubt of any blame attaching to him, and discharged the defendant.

Mose Elder was fined $5 for starting a row Sunday night that threw a negro dancing school on lower Morgan street into a panic, the conviction being made upon the defendant's testimony.

"I didn't go to that dance hunting trouble," said Elder. "But I felt kind of lonely, and, when I saw a pretty yellow gal looking like she felt the same way, I bought her a plate of ice cream. This man Biff Mitchell steps up and gives me warning that he's going to stick a knife in me. He looked bad, and I thought I had better do something before he had a chance. So I hit him a rap with my gun."

"It will cost you $5 for having that pistol," said Judge Wislizenus.

SOLDIER'S LOST LETTER

Paper Found Under a Floor Tells a Characteristic Story of the Civil War.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Feb. 27.—While engaged in tearing down a small brick structure in the rear of his residence yesterday, J. T. Munson came across a folded paper under the floor. Written on the outside of the paper were the words: "Read this."

On the inside was the following:

"Hagerstown, Md., Sept. 10, 1862. —Yesterday it was said that the Confederates, under Gen. Lee, were on the march for this town. I have buried $127 in gold and silver in a tin box, 30 feet south of where this note is, buried about four feet deep. If I come back any time I will get this letter to keep from fooling anybody. We start at 9 o'clock to meet Gen. McClellan. If I am killed the finder is welcome to the money.

J. N. C. DREW.
Co. C., First Maryland Regiment.

P. S.—There is an apple tree to the left of the money, about four feet.

The battle took place a few days later and as Drew was never seen after that, it is supposed he was killed. The tree referred to has long since disappeared and there is now nothing left to locate the exact spot where the money was buried.

BURIED UNDER STONE WALL.

Two Laborers Killed and One Rescued by Hard Digging.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A ten-foot stone wall, erected in an excavation at 333 West Nineteenth street for a new building, caved in today. Four Italian laborers were buried under the wall when it fell. Two were killed and two badly hurt. One of the dead men was named Calah. The other has not been identified. The injured are: Stefano Golvdato and Francisco Timmorene.

Golvdato was buried in the stone and mortar up to the waist and a hospital surgeon administered stimulants to him while firemen and laborers dug to get him free. It took half an hour's work to get the man out. He was taken to a hospital.

DEATH SEALS MYSTERY

WOUNDING OF JOHN EVERING NEVER EXPLAINED.

FOUND WANDERING IN WOODS.

Never Regained Consciousness After Being Taken to the City Hospital, and Secret Died With Him.

John Evering of 2516 South Tenth street died at the City Hospital at 7:20 Wednesday morning from a bullet wound in the brain.

On Jan. 25 Evering was found wandering in the woods near East Carondelet, Ill. When spoken to he made no reply, and continued to walk aimlessly about. He was taken into custody, and then it was learned that he had a bullet wound in his head. He was identified by papers found in his pockets, and sent home. That night he was forwarded to the City Hospital.

From the first the hospital physicians pronounced the wound necessarily fatal. At one time he showed signs of improvement, but he never fully regained his wits, and no statement as to how he came by the wound was secured from him.

Friends who had seen Evering the day before he was shot discredited the theory of attempted suicide. They were positive that he had not been in trouble, and equally certain that he had no enemy who would attempt to murder him. None could offer a theory as to why he had gone across the river, except on a hunting expedition—but when found he carried no firearms or game bag.

For one day the police thought Evering might be the man with whom Sergeant Hickman fought a desperate duel on horseback in the early morning of Jan. 24, but this theory was exploded when the wounded sergeant called at the hospital and declared positively that he was not the man.

KITCHENER TELLS OF CAPTURES.

French Received Surrender of 300 Boers Recently.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Gen. Kitchener, telegraphing from Middleburg, in the Transvaal, on the railroad between Pretoria and Portuguese East Africa, under date of Feb. 27, says:

"The following additional captures are reported by French up to Feb. 25:

BEFORE THE BABY COMES

Bessemer, Ala., April 20, 1900.

Wine of Cardui has done wonders for me and I am getting along nicely. I am going to continue taking it until the baby is born. I have taken three bottles of Wine of Cardui and my husband is well pleased with it. He says I look so much better. I feel like a new woman, myself.

Mrs. MAGGIE L. SULLIVAN.

There are few women who are not seized with uncanny forebodings as they approach the period of childbirth. They imagine some terrible trial is about to overtake them. And a trial it is to a woman whose life and strength are drained by female diseases. But a strong and healthy woman who takes an occasional dose of Wine of Cardui, may hail with joy the coming of her child. Nature intended this great medicine for your use at this time. You should not needlessly endure the grinding tortures of female ills. Unhealthy or weak organs make childbirth dangerous.

WINE OF CARDUI

will prepare you for the ordeal of childbirth by strengthening the organs which make you a woman and by creating a fund of constitutional energy which makes delivery comparatively painless. If you are an expectant mother you should take Wine of Cardui to lessen the pain of labor and dispel the nervous terrors of pregnancy. Thousands of women use it at this period. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

THE END IN SIGHT.

The passage by the House of the substitute franchise tax bill from which the objectionable and doubtful features have been removed marks a long step towards victory for a franchise tax.

As it stands the bill is said to be satisfactory to Gov. Dockery and is approved by those who have studied it with reference to its effectiveness.

Now let the Senate settle the matter by accepting this bill and putting it through without delay.

The fight for franchise taxation which has been waged without ceasing by the Post- Dispatch for years, and which is almost unanimously demanded by the people of Missouri is nearly over. With the end in sight no obstacle should be permitted to prevent speedy action.

"The Sugar Trust is too greedy," says the steel interest. What does the Sugar Trust think of the Steel Trust?

TAKE CARE OF THE LITTLE TALENT.

In the Sunday Post-Dispatch a number of women tell how they have won their way by utilizing special ability.

One has a talent for brown bread, another for pickles, another for fine needle work, while a fourth teaches cooking practically.

The one talent, the little talent, is often neglected, especially by women, and yet it may be the means of livelihood and the way to happiness.

Probably every man and woman has a special talent which may be relied upon. The difficulty is that its value is so seldom recognized. A turn for pickles—that is an humble knack. That it may be translated into bread and butter does not occur to many women.

Just stop and take stock of your wits. What can you do? What can you do better than others? Decide upon this and see how you can make it pay.

Remember the parable of the man who was afraid of himself because he had only one talent, and hid it away, and remember what happened to him.

Happily Senator Tillman refrained from tacking anything to the St. Louis third bridge bill, and it did not occur to Mr. Shepherd of Texas that it ought to be blocked.

ABOUT MR. SCHWAB.

Twenty years ago Charles M. Schwab was a freckle-faced boy driving stakes for a surveying party at $1 a day. Then he was Schwab.

Today he is head of the greatest corporation in the world, a corporation which controls all the iron and steel industries in the United States and possesses all the sources of production of those industries in North America. As president of the company he directs the work of 396,000 employes upon whom 2,000,000 persons depend. Now he is Mr. Schwab.

As a captain of industry Mr. Schwab certainly excels all others who have received that appellation.

How did he do it?

According to his own story it was very simple. He made himself indispensable to his employer. That is all there is in his magic.

Mr. Schwab does not believe in a college education for business men. But he thinks a boy should go through a high school. "I am a great believer in self-education," says Mr. Schwab. "After graduation from a high grade or public school a man to be successful even as a specialist should have a good general knowledge and therefore ought to read and study much."

Needless to say Mr. Schwab has read and studied much. He is an expert chemist and a widely read man.

The administration is doubtless proud of young Mr. Hay for protecting British interests in South Africa. There are so many Americans who would not like that kind of a job.

WHY?

In the monthly statement of Commerce and Finance just issued by Secretary Gage are these official statements:

1. That on the Clyde, the chief center of British shipbuilding, American steel ship plates are in general use and are sold at from $3 to $5 a ton less than British-made plates, after paying $6 per ton ocean freight.

2. That in November, 1900, alone 150,000 tons of American steel material were ordered by Clyde builders from America because $250,000 was thereby saved on the cost thereof.

3. That, according to Mr. G. W. Dickie, a leading shipbuilder of San Francisco, the (Dingley) tariff on steel plates and shapes enables the British shipbuilders to buy them cheaper than they are sold in the United States, and the duty on steel is no longer a protective measure.

If the steel trust can sell steel ship plates on the Clyde for less than British made plates why is it necessary to protect the trust in the home market?

If British shipbuilders can build ships with American cheaper than with British material why is a subsidy necessary to insure the building of an American merchant marine?

Admiral Sampson's idea that knowing how to shoot straight and fight is not so important in a naval officer as knowing how to bow and dance is not shared by fighting naval officers or the American people.

THE TRANSFER SYSTEM.

Enough has been said and written to show that the public is thoroughly exasperated at the new rules regarding street car transfers, which are impractical, childish and an imposition upon the passengers.

The new system, which assumes that every passenger has the exact time, has good eyesight, is of adult age, can read, is competent to aid the conductor in his work, and, above all, has plenty of spare nickels, bears heaviest on the class which can least afford it.

It is annoying to the business men, and to persons of means; but it is a terror to the poor and to children obliged to travel alone.

These latter, having been given to understand that St. Louis has a system of transfers, take with them from their scanty supply enough, as they suppose, to take them to their journey's end.

But they do not and cannot reckon with time, with delays of cars, with failure of cars to connect and with mistakes of conductors. Through no fault of their own, the transfers which they have been given lapse and are worthless. Nothing is left them but to walk, perhaps for miles, to the point to which in all fairness the street railway company should carry them.

Could anything be more unfair? Could anything proclaim more clearly the tyranny of monopoly?

As a return—pitifully small for its enormously valuable franchise—the St. Louis Transit Co. promised a system of transfers. The people of St. Louis have the right to expect that this system shall be fair and reasonable. It is natural that they should be thoroughly disgusted with a system that annoys and defrauds them at every turn.

It is the worst possible policy for a company to treat the public in this manner.

The railroad consolidation bill which has passed the Indiana Legislature not only allows the Baltimore & Ohio to take the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, but permits all railroads to consolidate, and it takes considerable authority away from the courts. No wonder the legislators are hearing from their constituents. The lobby lobster must have been exceedingly active at Indianapolis this winter.

THE ARBITRATION BILL.

The Clay arbitration bill having passed both houses the measure needs only the governor's signature to become a law.

The bill provides for a board of conciliation to act in all disputes between employers and employes. It is to be composed of three members chosen, one from the unions, one to be an employer of labor and the other to be a person who is neither employer nor employe.

The essential feature of the bill is the board is vested with the authority of a circuit court to summon and examine witnesses on oath and compel the production of books and accounts.

The bill stops short of compulsion. In cases where both parties ask for arbitration the findings of the board are binding. But where either refuses to so submit the case the findings are not binding unless exceptions are filed within five days.

It will be seen that progress is marked in the power to elicit the facts. This measures the strength of the law, which on this account should be useful and productive of good results. The difficulty heretofore has been that one side or the other could conceal essential facts. A board empowered to get the facts will insure publicity, and public opinion can safely be relied upon to exercise effective moral suasion upon the parties.

Mr. Cannon declared in the House the other day that when our navy is completed it will be the largest in the world except that of Great Britain, who is no menace to us because Canada is a hostage against a war with that country. Notwithstanding these facts, there is an effort to further increase our enormous naval expenditures.

As Great Britain is using 200,000 men in South Africa, why shouldn't Mr. McKinley think he needs 150,000 for the Philippines and Cuba? The Boers shoot, but the Filipinos sprint, and it remains to be seen what the Cubans will do.

Pierp. Morgan is not only to have the protection of our exorbitant tariff, but is to take in Canadian bounties. Mr. Morgan never lies awake thinking of how he may die disgracefully, as our sensitive philanthropist, Mr. Carnegie, does.

Patent Medicine Legislation.

From the Benton County Enterprise, Warsaw, Mo.

There are bills pending in the Missouri Legislature that will stop the sale of proprietary or patent medicines in the state. As nearly everybody has his favorite medicine, if the bill becomes a law there may be some legislative big heads who will have a chance to hide out. It begins to look as if the members of the Missouri House of the Senate have not yet passed a fool bill can safely be entered at the St. Louis World's Fair for a premium as exhibiting the greatest variety of foolery of any legislative body on earth.

O Love, 'tis weary waiting
Beyond all compensating.
Can wealth of time's creating
An aching heart console?
To Pilgrim sad and sighing
The empty days are flying
(To Pilgrim bound for paradise
Thy presence sweet the goal).

Can future joys and blisses
Repay the lost, lost kisses
Of morning's buoyant partings,
And evening's welcome home?
With youth-time spurned and wasted,
Joy's nectar cup untasted,
Oppressed by love and longing,
Afar from thee I roam.

Fond eyes and bosom tender
Thou art my faith's defender
In heart-lamp dimed by sorrow
Would Hope's bright light abide,
Dull age be youth's fair heyday,
Chill winter drear a May day,
And life a song of Heaven's choir—
If thou wert by my side.

Then come to me, my own one,
My lovely, fond and lone one,
My heart could not disown one
Bright hair of thy dear head.
O dream glad-hours awinging
Our hearts with rapture singing
Their longing and their anguish
From them forever fled.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

BY A POST-DISPATCH HUMORIST.

St. Louis boys, we opine, will be grieved to learn that the ancient and glorious art of snowballing has received a solar plexus plunk from an august judge in Boston. This jurist has decided that it is not a crime to shoot a boy who snowballs one's house. He has discharged without trial a man who shot one of the descendants of those bad boys who used to stone frogs to death in the Boston common pond. Instead of stoning dumb animals, like their frolicsome forebears, the present Bostonese lads throw snow at a dead wall. The sport is more humane, though it appears more perilous to those engaged.

If Judge Fallon, the jurist mentioned, ever comes to St. Louis when the frost is on the punkin and the ice on the back doorstep, we suggest that the boys receive him with open arms—each arm full of snowballs soaked in Chi Sew H-2-0 and hung out over night to dry. It may detract from the dignity of the bench, but it will be fun for the boys.

According to a clipping We notice from an eastern publication that tells young ducks how to get in the swim and become President of the United States, poet laureate of Great Britain or the king of library plunderers, James Whitcomb Riley has committed an unpardonable sin. This publication prints the statement that Riley once said to an aspiring poet whose verses had been returned by the first mail every day for three years, "My young friend, be not discouraged. I had my poems returned by one magazine for 20 years, and in the twentieth year I had one accepted."

Mr. Riley's advice, in the opinion of We Us, is iniquitous in two ways. It will incite impossible rhymsters to pursue their phantoms until old age and penury chuck them into a pine in the ground and write "Total Failure" on the headboard; and it will create the impression among talented verse writers that it is desirable and helpful to have poems accepted by the magazines. If anyone can find a real poem in a current magazine, as an original contribution, without the aid of the X-ray, he will confer a lasting favor upon Us and render Us the object of a sudden surprise that will give zest to life.

* * *

It seems to Us that there is a woeful lack of literaryy output from the St. Louis City Council. One must admit that for aldermanic literature Chicago steps all over St. Louis. Whom have we in the City Council that can achieve a lyric like the latest by Chicago's "Bathhouse John?" Jim Cronin of the delegates might sling that sort of lilt if he had the nerve to try it, but he lacks the nerve. He would rather sling silver fizzes at two bits a pair. Yet no man can come under the spell of Delegate Cronin's eloquence without feeling that he could wrestle with the divine afflatus at least as well as the Terrible Turk did with George Baptiste, the Terrible Greek, if he only would.

Then there is the renowned Johnny Powers, a Chicago alderman, whose poems fly from him like sparks from the anvil. Whom have we in the St. Louis Legislature of equal powers to Powers? Alas! There is none, unless it be Councilman Charley Kratz, and he steadfastly refuses to write poetry, or even to read it. He actually admitted to Us the other day that he had not read "Hinkey Dink's" admirable critique on his colleague, "Bathhouse's," works.

Setting aside Capt. William R. Hogan, who is always at the stretch with his famous recitation, "David and Goliath," and "Polo" Wiggins, the councilman who can sing like a swallow if some one else will write the songs—setting aside these two, what have we in our City Council to give us any hope of competing with Chicago? Let us hope that the coming election will turn in some trumps. WE US.

Rev. Dr. Bliss on Socialism.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In the Sunday Post-Dispatch is an article quoting an address by Rev. Dr. Bliss before the Nineteenth Century Club on "The Limitations of Wealth."

If Dr. Bliss is correctly quoted he is no more a socialist than is Mark Hanna or Pierpont Morgan. The correspondent credits Dr. Bliss with saying that socialism means the "dividing up" of the wealth of the country evenly, and as stating that if this were done the big financiers would soon get it all into their hands again.

I cannot believe that Rev. Dr. Bliss, who is supposed to be well informed, ever said any such thing, because no modern socialist advocates "dividing up." Every intelligent man knows that socialism means public ownership of all the means of production and distribution, including the land. Under such a system the present holders of wealth would retain it, but their power of exploiting the rest of the people to add to their individual wealth would be gone.

Neither public speakers nor newspaper correspondents should be so foolish as to repeat that absurd charge about "dividing up." No one who is informed will believe it. ELI W. RICHARDSON.

Gas Meter Inspection.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I recently addressed the inspector of weights and measures, asking him to inspect the Laclede Gas Co.'s light and fuel gas meters at my house, as I had reason to believe that the meters did not register properly. In reply he said: "I have nothing to do with gas meters. I do not believe there is anyone in the city to look after such matters. The gas company has that all its own way."

Now, it seems to me this is all wrong. Why should the gas company have it all their own way? True, the company will replace its meters when these are reported defective, but that does not remedy the matter. There is no assurance that the new meter will register correctly.

On the other hand, when I purchase a ton of coal I know the weight is correct because I am furnished a certificate of weight by the weigher, whose scale has been inspected by the city inspector. The huckster, grocer, the feed man who supply me are compelled to pay a fee to have their scales and measures inspected before they may sell their goods.

Why should not the meter, which measures the amount of light and fuel gas furnished me by the Laclede Gas Co., be tested or inspected by the city inspector? H. F.

A Woman's View.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

When will men get through harping on Woman's Sphere? Her sphere is wherever she chooses to make it. Why do men not take up their work and do it, not leave it for a woman to do? Here we have a man for governor of Kansas, he has full power to close the unlicensed saloons, still he turns a deaf ear and closes his eyes and leaves his work undone for a woman to take up and do. She has done in a couple days what has been undone for years, and we have right here in our own city some of the best citizens and clergy petitioning the city and state authorities to close the dens of vice and wineroomsi still they run, and will continue to until we find a Mrs. Nation to close them. Men are all right in their way but they are all light weight; it takes a woman to balance them.

Conductors Should Know Their Business.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Speaking of the transit company and in regard to the lucid intellect of a transit company conductor and his knowledge of his business, I took an Eighteenth street car on Franklin avenue, and, when I paid my fare, I asked the conductor what car I could transfer to to reach Tenth or Eleventh and Morrison avenue. His reply was: "Search me; I don't know. I can give you a transfer, south, at Eighteenth and Clark avenue; that's all I know."

A gentleman across the aisle gave me, and incidentally the conductor, the desired information, and I eventually received the correct transfer. MRS. M.

The Bread Question.

If the restaurants do not give us good bread instead of this innutritious, dead, loathsome stuff that we get then we shall be compelled to make some other arrangement for lunch. They can give us some nice muffins or corndodgers if they will and at no greater expense to themselves, and if they continue indifferent about it then the great mass of the business men should protest and make their protest heard. TO-DAY'S FAMOUS SHORT STORY

THE BAD WIFE.

A Blackfoot Legend.

THERE was once a man who had but one wife. He was not a chief, but a very brave warrior. He was rich, too, so he could have had plenty of wives if he wished; but he loved his wife very much, and did not want any more. He was very good to this woman. She always wore the best clothes that could be found. If any other woman had a fine buckskin dress or something very pretty the man would buy it for her.

It was summer. The berries were ripe, and the woman kept saying to her husband, "Let us go and pick some berries for winter." "No," replied the man. "It is dangerous now. The enemy is traveling all around." But still the woman kept teasing him to go. So one day he told her to get ready. Some other women went, too. They all went on horseback, for the berries were a long way from camp. When they got to the place, the man told the women to keep near their horses all the time. He would go up on a butte near by and watch. "Be careful," he said. "Keep by your horses, and if you see me signal throw away your berries, get on your horses and ride toward camp as fast as you can."

They had not picked many berries before the man saw a war party coming. He signaled the women, and got on his horse and rode toward them. It happened that this man and his wife both had good horses, but the others, all old women, rode slow old travois horses, and the enemy soon overtook and killed them. Many kept on after the two on good horses, and after a while the woman's horse began to get tired; so she asked her husband to let her ride on his horse with him. The woman got up behind him, and they went on again. The horse was a very powerful one, and for a while went very fast; but two persons makes a heavy load, and soon the enemy began to gain on them. The man was now in a bad plight; the enemy were overtaking him, and the woman holding him bound his arms so that he could not use his bow.

"Get off," he said to her. "The enemy will not kill you. You are too young and pretty. Some one of them will take you and I will get a big party of our people and rescue you."

"No! No!" cried the woman; "let us die here together!"

"Why die?" cried the man. "We are yet young, and may live a long time together. If you don't get off they will soon catch us and kill me, and then they will take you anyhow. Get off, and in only a short time I will get you back."

"No, no," again cried the woman; "I will die here with you."

"Crazy person!" cried the man, and with a quick jerk he threw the woman off.

As he said, the enemy did not kill her. The first one who came up counted coup and took her. The man, now that his horse was lightened, easily ran away from the war party and got safe to camp.

II.

Then there was great mourning. The relatives of the old women who had been killed cut their hair and cried. The man, too, cut off his hair and mourned. He knew that his wife was not killed, but he felt very badly because he was separated from her. He painted himself black and walked all through the camp, crying. His wife had many relations, and some of them went to the man and said: "We pity you very much. We mourn, too, for our sister. But come. Take courage. We will go with you and try to get her back."

"It is good," replied the man. "I feel as if I should die, stopping uselessly here. Let us start soon."

That evening they got ready, and at daylight started out on foot. There were seven of them in all. The husband, five middle-aged men, the woman's relatives and a young man, her own young brother. He was a very pretty boy. His hair was longer than any other person's in camp.

They soon found the trail of the war party, and followed it for some days. At last they came to the Big River * and there, on the other side, they saw many lodges. They crept down a coulee into the valley and hid in a small piece of timber just opposite the camp. Toward evening the man said: "Kyi, my brothers. Tonight I will swim across and look all through the camp for my wife. If I do not find her I will cache and look again tomorrow evening. But if I do not return before daylight of the second night, then you will know I am killed. Then you will do as you think best. Maybe you will want to take revenge. Maybe you will go right back home. That will be as your hearts feel."

As soon as it was dark he swam across the river and went all about through the camp, peeping in through the doorways of the lodges, but he did not see his wife. Still he knew she must be there. He had followed the trail of the party to this place. They had not killed her on the way. He kept looking in at the lodges until it was late, and the people let the fires go out and went to bed. Then the man went down to where the women got their water from the river. Everywhere along the stream was a cut bank, but in one place a path of steps had been made down to the water's edge. Near this path he dug a hole in the bank and crawled into it, closing up the entrance except one small hole, through which he could look and watch the people who came to the river.

As soon as it was daylight the women began to come for water. Tum, tum, tum, tum, he could hear their footsteps as they came down the path, and he looked eagerly at every one. All day long the people came and went—the young and old; and the children played about near him. He saw many strange people that day. It was now almost sunset, and he began to think that he would not see his wife there. Tum, tum, hum, tum, another woman came down the steps and stopped at the water's edge. Her dress was strange, but he thought he knew the form. She turned her head and looked down the river and he saw her face. It was his wife. He pushed away the dirt, crawled out, went to her and kissed her. "Kyi," he said, "hurry and let us swim across the river. Five of your relations and your own young brother are waiting for us in that piece of timber."

"Wait," replied his wife. "These people have given me a great many pretty things Let me go back. When it is night I will gather them up, steal a horse and cross over to you."

"No, no," cried the man. "Let the pretty things go; come, let us cross at once."

"Pity me," said the woman. "Let me go and get my things. I will surely come tonight. I speak the truth."

"How do you speak the truth?" asked her husband.

"That my relations there across the river may be safe and live long. I speak the truth."

"Go then," said the man, "and get your things. I will cross the river now." He went up on the bank and walked down the river, keeping his face hidden. No one noticed him, or if they did they thought he belonged to the camp. As soon as he got beyond the first bend he swam across the river and soon joined his relations.

"I have seen my wife," he said to them "She will come over as soon as it is dark I let her go back to get some things that were given her."

"You are crazy!" said one of the men "very crazy. She already loves this new man she has or she would not have wanted to go back."

"Stop that!" said the husband; "do not talk bad of her. She will surely come."

III.

The woman went back to her lodge with the water, and, sitting down near the fire place, she began to cut very strangely. She took up pieces of charred wood, dirt and ashes in her hands and ate them and made queer noises.

"What is it?" asked the man who had taken her for a wife. "What is the matter with you?" He spoke in signs.

The woman also spoke in signs. She answered him: "The Sun told me that there are seven persons across the river in that piece of timber. Five of them are middle-aged, another is a young boy with very long hair, another is a man who mourns. His hair is cut short."

The Snake did not know what to do, so he called in some chiefs and old men to advise with him. They thought that the woman might be very strong medicine. At all events, it would be a good thing to go and look. So the news was shouted out, and in a short time all the warriors had mounted their best horses and started across the river. It was then almost dark, so they stopped the piece of timber and waited for morning to begin the search.

"Kyi," said one of the woman's relations to her husband. "Did I not speak the truth? You see now what that woman has done for us."

At daylight the poor husband strung his bow, took a handful of arrows from his quiver and said: "This is my fault. I have brought you to this. It is right that I should die first," and he started to go out of the timber.

"Wait," said the eldest relative. "It shall not be so. I am the first to go. I cannot stay back to see my brother die. You shall go out last." So he jumped out of the brush and began shooting his arrows, but was soon killed.

"My brother is too far on the road alone," cried another relation and he jumped out and fought, too. What use, one against so many? The Snakes soon had his scalp.

So they went out, one after another, and at last the husband was alone. He rushed out very brave, and shot his arrows as fast as he could. "Hold!" cried the Snake man to his people. "Do not kill him; catch him. This is the one my wife said to bring back alive. See! his hair is cut short." So when the man had shot away all his arrows they seized and tied him, and, taking the scalps of the others, returned to camp.

They took the prisoner into the lodge where his wife was. His hands were tied behind his back, and they tied his feet, too. He could not move.

As soon as the man saw his wife he cried. He was not afraid. He did not care now how soon he died. He cried because he was thinking of all the trouble and death this woman had caused. "What have I done to you," he asked his wife, "that you should treat me this way? Did I not always use you well? I never struck you. I never made you work hard."

"What does he say?" asked the Snake man.

"He says," replied the woman, "that when you are done smoking you must knock the ashes and fire out of your pipe on his breast."

The Snake was not a bad-hearted man, but he thought now that this woman had strong medicine that she had Sun power; so he thought that everything must be done as she said. When the man had finished smoking he emptied the pipe on the Piegan's breast, and the fire burned him badly.

Then the poor man cried again, not from pain, but to think what a bad heart this woman had. Again he spoke to her. "You cannot be a person," he said. "I think you are some fearful animal, changed to look like a woman."

"What is he saying now?" asked the Snake.

Home HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

CREAM OF ONION SOUP.—Heat two tablespoonfuls of butter in a spider and turn in a dozen small onions minced, and a minced turnip; add one cupful of boiling water, cover and cook until the vegetables are tender; remove the cover and when the water has all evaporated blend in one tablespoonful of flour; add now one quart of milk and when smooth turn into a double boiler; cook twenty minutes, next rub through a soup-strainer, and return to boiler; add one level teaspoonful of salt, one-half saltspoonful of pepper, a bit of nutmeg and the yolks of four eggs beaten with four tablespoonfuls of cold milk; stir till it thickens, remove from the stove, add one cupful of whipped cream and serve immediately.

VEAL AND HAM PIE.—Cut the meat into strips half an inch wide and over an inch long. Have ready half as much cooked ham cut up in the same way and six hard-boiled eggs. Before you begin the pie have the gravy ready and cold. Make it by stewing slowly bones and refuse bits of veal in a pint of water until you have reduced the liquid one-half, when strain out the meat and bones, add a small onion, minced, a tablespoonful of strained tomato sauce and one of chopped sweet herbs with pepper to taste (the ham supplying the salt), and cook five minutes before setting aside to cool. Now put in the bottom of a pudding dish a layer of the veal, pepper lightly, and dust with flour; cover with a layer of the ham and this with slices of hard-boiled eggs, each with a bit of butter upon it. Another layer of veal, peppered and floured, more ham and eggs and so on until all the materials are in. A few drops of lemon juice on the ham or a few capers sprinkled here and there improve the flavor. Pour in the gravy, cover with a good paste, cutting a slit in the middle, and bake slowly an hour and a half for a medium-sized pie; two hours if large. Lay stout, clean paper over it for the first hour and keep the oven steady, not too hot. This is a delicious pie.

CLAMS ON TOAST.—Chop a dozen clams and boil them for three minutes in their liquor; drain and add to them two tablespoonfuls of fine crumbs, a tablespoonful of butter, salt and pepper to taste, and a gill of milk, in which a heaping teaspoonful of cornstarch has been dissolved. Stir constantly over the fire until the mixture boils, then add a gill of cream; stir for a moment longer and pour upon the toast.

NEW AND IMPROVED MATERIAL FOR LUMINOUS PAINTS.—Rodriguez-Mourelo, in the Moniteur Scientifique, gives the following composition of a new luminous mass which produces a glow of astonishing brilliancy and remarkable persistence. Besides these qualities, the mixture possesses the great advantage of requiring but a brief period of exposure to the sun to become saturated, as it were, with luminous rays. The mixture consists of 20 parts of dehydrated sodium carbonate, 5 parts sodium chloride, 1 part of manganese sulphate, 500 parts strontium carbonate, and 150 parts of sulphur. Mix well together, put into a closely sealed muffle, and heat together at a white heat for three hours, under careful exclusion of atmospheric air.

A GOOD MACHINE OIL.—Druggists who have frequent calls for sewing machine oil will find that a mixture of two parts of good rape oil and one part of vaselin oil makes a first-class lubricator for all kinds of light machinery.

NEW AND LASTING WASH FOR HOUSE-PAINTING.—According to Praktische Mittheilungen fur Handel und Gewerbe, the following method of procedure produces a most lasting protection for wood exposed to the weather, and is especially suitable for house-painting: Go over the wood first with zinc white and on this put a coat of zinc chloride in lime water. The zinc oxide (zinc white) and chloride, on being brought together, produce zinc oxychloride of the greatest hardness and brilliancy of surface. By the addition of dry colors any and almost every shade and hue may be produced. The covering produced by this zinc combination is indestructible, dries quickly, does not scale off, is devoid of odor, and is more than 5 per cent cheaper than paint.

MUSIC IN CHURCHES

DR. FRANK DAMROSCH CONDEMNS OPERATIC AIRS.

ALSO THE QUARTET CHOIR

The Organ Should Never Imitate the Orchestra and Chorus Should Replace Quartet.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Church music was discussed and illustrated, and Dr. Frank Damrosch condemned operatic music in church and the employment of quartet choirs last night at the annual dinner of the Methodist Social Union of New York.

Mr. Damrosch said he hoped he would not tread on any Methodist or other toes in treating broadly on "Music in the church, not music in the Methodist Church." He saw three main uses of music in the church as a preparation for spiritual thought, as a means of expression for the deeper emotions, and as an elevating force for bringing the soul nearer to the divine power. He described how, by the proper use of music, the soul was attuned to divine things at the beginning of the service, and he deprecated the misuse of that opportunity by organists playing operatic airs.

"I do not want an Italian operatic melody," said Dr. Damrosch, "when I enter a church, and, moreover, the organ should never imitate an orchestra. It is fine enough and grand enough to stand on its own basis."

Dr. Damrosch regretted that a lack of appreciation for the great masters of music was sadly shown in the compilation of some of the more pretentious hymnals, and he condemned the mutilation of the great works of composers to furnish the tunes for hymns.

"That is vandalism," he exclaimed, "and should not be permitted, and you should have a committee of safety appointed to prevent it."

"The quartet choir," he said, "is an American institution and it is perhaps the cause of more trouble in the church than any other thing. I would not advise Americans to be proud of it. Not that we do not have excellent quartets, but the more excellent they are, the less fit they are to be in the church. The solution of the quartet difficulty is the chorus. Choral music, to my mind, is the only music that is fit for the church and in that it sinks the individuality of the performer in the mass. I would not, however, exclude the incidental solo from its proper place in a compilation."

Prescription No. 281 by Elmer & Amend will not cure all complaints, but it will cure rheumatism.

DEATH DISCLOSED HER NAME.

Widow of H. C. Ives, Napoleon of Finance, Known as Miss Graham.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 27.—Gertrude S Ives, widow of the Napoleon of finance, H. C. Ives, died at a private hospital in this city. Her body was shipped to New York for burial. She was known here as Miss Graham and only disclosed her identity shortly before her death.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, but Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diasjase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of the stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free on stomach troubles, by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

GOSPEL OF MATTHEW

IT IS CONTAINED IN A PAPYRUS FOUND IN EGYPT.

ITS DATE IS IN DOUBT

It Confirms the Message of the Angel to Joseph—Other Important Papyri.

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—Rev. Dr. Wm. C. Winslow of this city, vice-president of the Egypt exploration fund today announced the discovery of a most valuable trophy among the large number of papyrii recently received by Dr. Winslow for distribution among several universities, 29 of which went to the University of Pennsylvania. It is the oldest fragment of the gospels of the world now in this country.

Dr. Winslow states that the papyrus contains a large part of the first chapter of the gospel of St. Matthew. It was found at Oxyrhynchus, 140 miles south of Cairo, near the famous "Logia" or "Sayings of Jesus," and its date is placed by some experts at 150 A. D., and by the editors of the society's publications at 50 or 60 years later.

This papyrus of St. Matthew belongs to the same class as the famous Sinaitic and Vatican Codices and of course is a remarkable corroboration of these texts and the present accepted versions. On an important doctrinal point it declares in common the exact language, "Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary, thy wife, for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost."

This papyrus is the oldest fragment of the gospels, or, indeed, of the New Testament.

Dr. Winslow states that valuable papyri of Homer, Thucydides and Euclid are also in the collection. The papyrus of Thucydides includes no less than chapters 36-41 of his fourth book, eight dates from the first century.

Very fortunate, too says Dr. Winslow, is the University of Pennsylvania to possess a splendid papyrus of a large part of the fifth book of the Iliad in very good text. It dates a little later than 200 A. D. The accentuation is full and somewhat unique.

The petition of Dionysia to the prefect, dating 189 A. D., is a legal document of many pages, full of just such references to precedents introduced as one finds in a petition and argument to our supreme court of 1991. Dionysia claims her right to property conferred by her marriage contract and to enjoy the income of it, without the interference of Chaeremon, her father. A bit of Euclid of the third century illustrates proposition five of the second book, and papyrus 29 reveals the fact that private syndicates existed at 83 A. D., for it states how a company of residents got together to do some banking at the village of Tuxis. The banking of Nile, not of funds, is meant, in order to keep their lands from being too much watered.

All in all, these papyrii form a wonderful collection for any library or museum to possess. Philadelphia last season sent to the Egypt exploration fund office in Boston a check for $750, and Dr. Winslow says that is why Philadelphia reaps so handsome a return in papyrii as well as antiquities, as all subscriptions to the explorations govern the pro rata distribution among our museums.

GAMBLING KING CONVICTED

Col. Ed Alvey of Kentucky Must Go to Prison for Two Years and Pay $500 Fine.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 27.—Ed Alvey, the king of Kentucky gamblers and the prince of good fellows, must serve two years in the Frankfort penitentiary for gambling and pay a fine of $500.

So declared the jury in the Jefferson Circuit Court today. The Social Purity League employed ex-Congressman Bill Owens, the coolest man that ever sat in a Kentucky card game, and one who in the past has been often found in one, to conduct the prosecution.

After Owens had conducted one cross-examination four indicted gamblers hastened to turn state's evidence.

A lawyer, when the verdict was brought in, said:

"When a man serves a sentence for gambling in Kentucky we will quit drinking whisky and burn up the stock farms."

RECRUITING THE NEW ARMY.

Great Progress Has Been Made in Organizing the Regiments.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Progress is made by the war department in the organization of the additional troops added by the recent army law.

Adjutant-General Corbin said that one battalion of the Twenty-sixth Regiment and one battalion of the Twenty-seventh Regiment of infantry are now en route to Manila, one battalion of the Twenty-eighth has been organized at the Presidio, San Francisco; one battalion of the Twenty-ninth will be filled at Fort Sheridan on Saturday night and other battalions are rapidly forming.

Equally good progress has been made in recruiting the new regiments of the cavalry arm. The organization of one squadron of the Eleventh Cavalry has just been completed, a squadron of the Twelfth Cavalry will be organized at Fort Leavenworth by Saturday and a squadron of the Thirteenth Cavalry at Fort Myer will be ready for service next week.

An important order for the formation of batteries of coast artillery will be issued today. Capt. W. P. Newcomb and Capt. O. I. Straub will organize the Eighty-third and Eighty-fourth batteries at Fort Hamilton, N. Y., Capt. George W. THE MOSQUITO SURELY GUILTY

Responsible for Spread of Yellow Fever.

SHOWN BY INVESTIGATION

OPINION OF THE PAN-AMERICAN MEDICAL CONGRESS.

The Yellow Fever Commission's Report Showed the Parasite Developed in the Mosquito That Had Bitten Fever Patients.

HOUSTON, Tex. Feb. 27.—The Pan-American medical congress, which was held in Havana, Cuba, devoted a great deal of time and attention to the discussion of yellow fever and some very interesting reports of scientific experiments were submitted. Dr. J. A. Mullen of Houston was one of the few Southern doctors in attendance and he talks very interestingly about what occurred there. He said:

"The meeting at Havana was one of the most important medical meetings, in my judgment, that was ever held and particularly so to the Southern states, but, singularly enough, there was not a representative of any board of health of the latter states in attendance. What made it of such great interest to the South was the discussions relative to yellow fever, the prevalence of which has done so much in late years to retard our progress.

"The commission appointed by President McKinley to investigate the cause of yellow fever submitted its final report at this meeting, and it was one of the most convincing and thoroughly interesting scientific reports that was ever made, I believe. This commission had its preliminary report read before the American Public Health Association at Indianapolis, Ind., last October, but the final report was read and discussed at the Havana meeting.

"The commission, of which Dr. Walter Reed of the United States navy was the chairman, conducted investigations at an experimental sanitary station at the town of Quemados, Cuba, and the most thorough researches were made in regard to yellow fever. The result of the experiments was to lay the responsibility for the propagation of the disease to a species of tropical mosquito, scientifically called culex fasciatus. This insect is most frequently found in open barrels, tanks and overground cisterns, which are frequently left open.

"The commission established a strict system of quarantine around its experimental station, and with all other sources of infection absolutely excluded, succeeded in infecting 85.70 per cent of those individuals who had been bitten by purposely contaminated mosquitoes.

"The observations did not confirm the opinion that the mosquitoes carry the specific agent in their probosces and simply transferred the disease from one individual to another in a mere mechanical way, but appeared to demonstrate that the parasite of yellow fever must undergo a distinct cycle development in the body of the mosquito before the latter is capable of conveying the infection. The report also considered the question of house infection and demonstrated that this infection is due to the presence of mosquitoes that have previously bitten cases of yellow fever and also that the danger of contracting this disease may be avoided in the case of non-immunes simply by using wire screens or wire mosquito netting.

"It was further demonstrated by these observations that clothing and bedding contaminated by contact with yellow fever cases and by the excrete of patients is absolutely without effect in conveying the disease. The nonimmunes were permitted to sleep in a room, the ventilation of which was purposely impaired, and allowed to sleep on mattresses, bed linen, pillows and bed clothing used by fatal cases of yellow fever. They occupied this room for 25 nights with absolutely no symptom of the disease occurring at the time or while in quarantine 10 days after the experiment.

"The commission therefore justified itself in concluding that yellow fever is only propagated by the bite of this mosquito, after the insect has bitten a yellow fever patient and after sufficient time has elapsed for the poison to become potent in the body of the mosquito. Twelve days must elapse after a mosquito bites a yellow fever patient before it is capable of infecting other persons. The commission also justified itself in concluding that the disinfection of clothing and bedding, soiled with black vomit, etc., by this disease is no more required than in the case of like articles soiled by patients with an attack of malarial fever.

"It was not determined how many persons a single mosquito is capable of infecting, nor has the term of life of the infected mosquito or the period of the potency of the poison it contains yet been ascertained. It is established, though, that were it not for the culex fasciatus we would have no yellow fever. The poison that causes the disease must necessarily undergo its cycle development in the body of the mosquito. You cannot ever infect a nonimmune with the disease by injecting the blood of a yellow fever patient into his veins.

"There is no question that yellow fever owes its origin to inefficient sanitary methods, such as surface drainage, etc., but the propagation of the disease is due solely to the mosquito."

STUDY AND STARVATION

Living on 10 Cents a Day Caused a Harvard Student to Become a Mental Wreck.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 27.—Ira Ibsen Sterner, a second year graduate at Harvard, has become mentally deranged from overwork and lack of proper food. Grave fears are entertained for his recovery. He has gone home to Keller's Church, Pa.

Sterner had studied at Harvard two years to gain his Pr. D. Often he devoted most of the night to his books. His poverty kept him insufficiently nourished. Flesh and blood could not stand this overwork and semi-starvation and mental breakdown resulted.

He boarded at Randall Hall. His maximum expenditures did not amount to more than 6 cents a meal, and it is said he frequently ended the day without eating more than 10 cents' worth of food. He thought that he could live nicely on this amount if he confined himself to a vegetarian diet.

Complaints, it is said, were frequently made by other students because he walked the floor of his room late at night in an endeavor to keep his mind upon his books.

CHICAGO'S FISH AND GAME SHOW.

Cages and Tanks Scattered Through a Mimic Forest.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Several thousand persons attended the formal opening of the International Forest, Fish and Game Association exhibit at the Coliseum last night. The interior of the big building had been transformed into a veritable forest. The exhibit of game animals is extensive and represents nearly every type of native animals, while the showing of birds and fishes is very large. The latter are displayed in glass tanks lighted from above with incandescent lamps. Opposite the main entrance is an artificial lake, on the banks of which is an Indian village. The Indians are from Wisconsin and New Mexico. Through the forest are scattered numerous pens and cages in which the animals and birds are confined.

HE HATED WOMEN

STRANGE TALK OF SUSPECTED DENVER MURDERER.

WORDS INDICATE INSANITY

He Has Been Identified as the Man Who Has Caused Denver's Reign of Terror.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 27.—By the arrest of a man giving the name of Al Cowen the police believe they have captured the insane desperado who since last September has struck down seven women, two of whom died from their injuries.

Cowen declares he hates women because they have been persecuting him for years. His lodgings is in the section of the city where the assaults have been committed. Cowen was not told of what crime he was suspected.

Police Captain Armstrong questioned him chiefly about the revolver he carried.

"What do you need a revolver for?" Armstrong asked.

Cowen hesitated. At last he said: "They made me come away from Virginia."

"Who did?"

"They—those women."

"Did they bother you here?"

Cowen did not answer at once. But a little later he said the women worried him all the time.

"You don't like women?" Capt. Armstrong asked.

"I hate them," he answered.

A moment later he said:

"What would you do if a lot of women had it in for you and kept haunting you to death. They persecute me and make it so I can't stay in any place."

Cowen tallies almost in every respect with the description given by Mrs. Unternaher of her assailant. Albert Fredericks picked Cowen out of 15 prisoners as the man he saw Friday night running from the scene of Mrs. Short's murder.

MURDER AND A LYNCHING.

Man Who Shot His Stepson Hanged by Mississippians.

SCRANTON, Miss., Feb. 27.—Donald Davis, the 11-year-old son of Mrs. John Knox, was shot and killed by his stepfather at Scranton. Knox married Mrs. Davis, a widow, who was some years his senior, but a month ago. From the first he disliked her son, and this morning, after heavy drinking, he shot him as he was mounting the steps of the house after returning from an errand. The mother divined his purpose before Knox could fire, and struggled desperately to prevent the murder, Knox was too strong for even a mother's love. He shook her off and fired the fatal shot deliberately.

He was locked up in the Scranton jail, charged with murder, and tonight a mob broke into the jail, took him out and hanged him to a tree.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE WORLD.

CURRENT SPORTING COMMENT

Word comes from the halls of baseball debate in New York that the Players' Association, through its president, Charles Zimmer, has agreed to suspend any member of the organization who signs with the American League—this, in return for concessions received from the National League. If this is so the players have been guilty of a bit of diplomacy, or perhaps duplicity, in obtaining their desires. They soft-soaped the American people until they obtained many promises of reform in the system of contracting for players. These they used as a weapon to force the National to grant them similar terms. All of which being accomplished they side with the organization which has, according to their claims, abused them, and ungratefully discard that one which was the means to their end. Ban Johnson et al. are now recalling the anecdote of the man who warned the serpent at his breast.

That Fitzsimmons is permanently out of the ring is evident from his recent utterances. These are characterized by that Sullivanesque unmeaningness which in a pugilist is a sure sign that as far as future fighting is concerned the "jig is up." They are so puerile, or rather senile, as to excite the wonder of the readers or hearers as to the gentleman's sanity.

The latest dream Fitz has had related to Jeffries. While smoking the "long pipe," he saw a vision how one William Brady, manager of James Jeffries, was the real cause of the postponement of the fight between the present champion and Ruhlin. Fitz says he believes Brady, knowing the bad condition in which his man's knee was, wanted to back out and started all the opposition which resulted in legal action against the fight. It seems that mens sana in corpore sano is not an apt quotation in the present instance.

CRESCENTS BEAT DRUGGISTS

Office Men and Cosmos Played a Close Match Which Was Decided by the Last Frame.

To the surprise of those who have been following the playing of the teams of the Central Cocked-Hat League the Crescents defeated the Druggists in a 3-2 match Tuesday evening. The latter totaled the greatest number of pins and scored the best team average. The Druggists opened by winning the first two games. The third was won by the Crescents and the fourth was a tie, the Crescents winning the roll-off. The final and deciding game went to the Crescents by a margin of 16 pins. Welty of the winners and Brenner of the Druggists both averaged better than 54. Team averages: Crescents, 48 17-25; Druggists, 50 12-25.

The Office Men's Club team and the Cosmos of the Central League played a close contest in which the rubber game was won by the former team. Although the Club men were not up to their usual form and the bowling none too brilliant, the match was interesting inasmuch as it took the last frame of the last game to decide the winner. The teams alternated in winning two games each and fought hard for honors in the last. Rickart of the Office Men had the high mark for the series, 51 2-5. Team averages: Office Men, 46 23-25; Cosmos, 44 17-25.

In the match between the Centurys and the Westerns of the Oarsman's League, the former team scored a shutout against their opponents. The losers fell below the 40 average mark and were not in it at any time. Harrar, 59 2-5, was high man for the Centurys. Team averages: Centurys, 45 1-5; Westerns, 39 21-25.

An exciting contest between the Victors and the Towers of the World's Fair League ended in a 3 to 2 victory for the former. Bastian of the Victors made the high average of the evening, 52 1-5. Teams: Victors, 46 24-25; Towers, 46 3-25.

Although the Falstaffs totaled more pins than the Grand Avenues of the Merchants' League, the match was won by the latter team, which succeeded in capturing the odd game. Clymer of the Grand Avenues and Bonner of the Falstaffs both went over 50 in the individual averages. Teams: Grand Avenues, 43 6-25; Falstaffs, 43 17-25.

The Junctions won a 4 to 1 match from the Cabinets of the Merchants' League. Hammett, 42, was high average man for the losers. Team averages: Junctions, 36 21-25; Cabinets, 33 3-5.

ST. LOUIS CLUB MEMBERS IN POOL TOURNAMENT CONTEST FOR PIERCE CUP

LOVING CUP DONATED BY H. CLAY PIERCE.

R. Park Von Wedelstaedt and F. R. Rice Will Play for the Valuable Trophy Wednesday Night.

After continuing for nearly three months the St. Louis Club pool tournament will close Wednesday night, when Mr. F. R. Rice and Mr. R. Park von Wedelstaedt and Mr. W. S. Cluff and Mr. J. F. Lee meet in the concluding games. The first-named couple will contest for first and second honors and for the Henry Clay Pierce trophy—a handsome and valuable loving cup. The other pair will contest for third and fourth prizes.

The tournament has proven one of the most successful in the history of the club. It opened Nov. 15 with 110 entries, handicapped and divided into four classes. Such good men as Wayman McCreery and Luther Kennett were in the match, but lost out through too much handicap. Mr. Rice, with but 65 to play, 110 being scratch, has been winning persistently and will undoubtedly be the hardest man his opponent, Mr. Von Wedelstaedt, has had to play against, as the latter's handicap is 95.

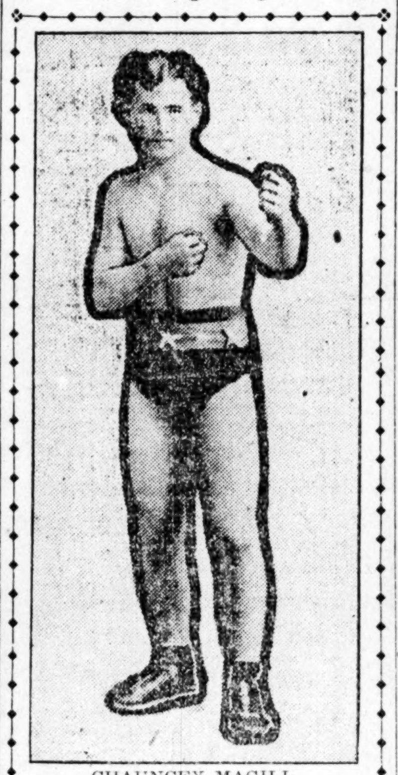

Among the club members the donation of the Pierce trophy has added great interest to the tourney. Mr. Pierce was himself a contestant, but dropped out early in the play. The condition to acquiring permanent possession of the cup is that it must be won by the same party two successive times.

In addition to the Pierce trophy four handsome prizes will be presented to the winners of the first four places in the tournament. They are a silver pitcher, a silver punchbowl, a dozen Bohemian ware wineglasses and a silver loving cup.

Charles Claflin Allen will make the presentation speech after the contests are over and the invitations to members announce that a luncheon will be served.

Chauncey Magill Wants a Chance to Earn the $50 Offered by the "Terrible" Lightweight.

CHAUNCEY MAGILL.
(St. Louis Fighter Who Thinks He Can Stay with McGovern Four Rounds.)

Chauncey Magill, a local boxer, announces that he is ready to try and stay four rounds with the "Terrible" Terry McGovern. Magill is said to be a clever young fellow at 125 pounds and thinks he has a chance to stand up before the Brooklyn whirlwind the necessary number of rounds to win the offered $50. Magill would like to arrange the match for Saturday night, but so would several others. If the chief of police will permit a date it may be satisfactorily arranged.

BOECKLER IN POOR FORM.

Though His Average Was Low He Defeated Tom Wright.

Adolph Boeckler and Tom Wright were the contestants in Tuesday night's three-cushion billiard tournament game. The contest was closely though poorly played, Boeckler winning by three points. The men indulged in much safety playing, as the winner's average of .35 shows. Wright was in the lead most of the game, but toward the close Boeckler drew a few points in front. With the score standing at 49 to 47, Boeckler made a wild "scratch" and went out. Neither man was up to his form. Boeckler, when he won the class B tournament, made a grand average for the series of games of .49—.14 better than his record last night.

Wednesday night's game will be between Clarence Hutching and Tom Wright.

Struck in the Stomach.

Emory O. Anderson, 28 years old, of 1618 Hickory street, was struck in the pit of the stomach by the end of a pine board while at work Tuesday night in the shop of the American Car and Foundry Co. and probably fatally injured.

Examination at the City Hospital showed no external marks, but there was evidence of serious internal injury. Superintendent Nietere and Assistant Superintendent Amyx performed laporotomy on the patient Wednesday morning.

WILL PREPARE FOR SEASON

Schedule Committee of the Southern League to Meet Saturday to Arrange Dates.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 27.—The schedule committee of the Southern League will meet in Memphis March 2, at the Clarendon Hotel. The morning session will be informal and the association will not take up its executive work until the afternoon.

The meeting will be the most important this season and representatives will attend from the entire South.

Among those who will be here are: President Kent of Chattanooga and Lew Whistler, manager of the Chattanooga team, and A. W. Iles and W. H. Hardin. Among the Nashville delegation will be Newt Fisher, manager of the team; E. C. Shannon and E. A. Lindsey. Birmingham will be represented by Vice-President Boles of the Southern Association and from Little Rock will come President Aaron Frank of the Little Rock team, Manager M. J. Finn and several stockholders. George Reed, manager for Shreveport, accompanied by Secretary and Treasurer Sam Davis, will be here. Birmingham will be represented by Manager Sam Mills, Manager William Nugent and Thomas Kerrel will talk in the interests of Atlanta and Abner Powell, manager of the New Orleans Club, will come with James Nolan, his right-hand man.

The object of the meeting is to settle the question of dates, uniforms and equipment, the distribution of umpires and the disposition and signing of all unplaced players.

According to the last circular issued by President Kent of the Southern League, the appointment of the following umpires has been confirmed: Buck Ebright of Milwaukee, Tom McNamara of Allegheny, Pa., Ed Kline of New Albany, Ind., and Al Mott of Princeton, N. J.

The Memphis team is about complete and, up to date, Manager Charles Frank has signed 17 men, including four good pitchers. The regular championship season will open April 29, probably, but exhibition games will be played for 20 days, beginning April 1, simultaneously with the opening of the spring meeting of the New Memphis Jockey Club.

FOOTBALL VS. BRAINS

PROF. WESTCOTT DEMONSTRATES THAT THEY ARE NOT COMPATIBLE.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 27.—"My football face theory stands, and I won't have to pay the expenses of the football team next year," said Prof. Oliver S. Westcott, principal of the North Division High School.

"I offered to pay the expenses of the football team next year if one of the players passed the examination. I knew that brawn developed at the expense of brains would never win. Thomas Cogwill is a good boy, and was picked by the football players as the one who could pass from this school. There entered the competition six boys and two girls, and five of the boys and one of the girls passed. The only confessed athlete in the lot failed. This does not prove that an athlete cannot be a scholar, but it does prove that a boy can't center his energies on football as the game is played today and hold his own with the students."

Cogwill said:

"I am sorry, because the boys were counting on me to win. I don't think it was my football playing that made me fail. I had to go up against the best scholars from all the schools."

Pres. Woman's Relief Corps.

A Woman Who Has Been Honored By Her Sex Gives Valuable Advice.

Rose E. Parker Recommends Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy to the Sick.

ROSE E. PARKER, PRESIDENT WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

When a person who has been sick for a long time and almost gives up all hope of being cured or relieved from the tortures of ill health, at last finds a medicine which banishes all disease and pain and restores them to good health, they are so happy that they wish every one to know of the remedy which has done so much for them. They know perfectly well how they were ailing, and what their feelings were in regard to their affliction. They also know that if others used the same medicine that they too would be restored to health. At this season, especially, when everybody needs a spring tonic, they should take this grand medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura, and put their system in such a condition that they can ward off attacks of disease which are lurking about, and which, if they once gain a foothold, lead on to chronic complaints. Nothing is able to cope with disease and banish it from the human system like Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

Headaches and sleeplessness always give unmistakable signs of disease. Multitudes of men and women suffer in this way, and do not find relief because they do not get the right treatment. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy corrects deranged nerves honestly and thoroughly. It cures nervous ailments and chronic complaints. Hosts of people in every community have been cured by this grand medicine. We publish herewith a letter from Rose E. Parker of William Downs Woman's Relief Corps, 216 South 7th St., Minneapolis. She says:

"Dr. Greene's well known remedy was highly recommended to me some time ago, when suffering with bad health. I had bad headaches, and restless nights, and only those who have been similarly afflicted know how grateful I feel toward Dr. Greene's Nervura. After using four bottles I was completely restored to good health. During the last five months I have had neither ache nor pain, and I give Dr. Greene's Medicine the credit for curing me. Dr. Greene can always count on me as a friend of his famous remedy."

What stronger testimony could you want than this? Every word and every line tells you that this wonderful remedy will cure disease. When such strong proof is offered to you, is there any reason for you to hesitate? Bear in mind also that if you are discouraged about the state of your health, you can get free medical advice by consulting Dr. Greene either at his office, 35 W. 14th St., New York City, or by writing him a letter explaining about your case. He gives you the benefit of his years of experience absolutely free of charge. If you are sick or ailing, do not fail to write or call upon him this very day.

OPPOSED IMPERIALISM

PROF. SCHURMAN OF CORNELL ADDRESSED THE LIFE UNDERWRITERS.

CHINA MUST BE LET ALONE

The Acquisition of the Philippines, He Thought a Matter of the Gravest Responsibility.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—At the fourteenth annual dinner of the Life Underwriters' Association of New York last night, President Jacob G. Schurman of Cornell University spoke on "The Insurance of Nations." He said in part:

"Some people believe that the more a nation has the happier it is. If their logic is correct the nation that overruns the world reaches the climax of human perfection. What constitutes the soul of a nation? What is its goal? Do we make the republic greater if we cross the Pacific and annex a piece of China? Do we make the nation safer and more secure? If not, what do we do? What insures our country, I believe, is a common nationality, a common religion and common interests. In spite of the steady stream of immigration that has poured into the United States this republic has maintained a common nationality, and the interests of one part of the country are the interests of another.

"We have not gone to China. I hope we shall not. I expect that those who do will, in the course of a generation or two, encounter an interesting Nemesis. By partitioning China we do not divide her people. They will remain homogenous and acquire mechanical arts, assert their independence and acquire it. I believe this country acts wisely in leaving China to the Chinese. I do not believe that this country by the annexation of the Philippines has increased its power or security. Sovereignty is not possession, but rsponsibility. We have annexed, not great advantages, but grave responsibilities. I believe that we are in the Philippines for their sake, not ours. Our mission there may be regarded as educational."

Prof. Schurman thought it necessary to have a large army in the east in order to impress the Oriental mind.

WOMAN TURNED IN ALARM.

Miss Nanton Neither Screamed Nor Fainted When She Saw Fire.

Miss Minnie Manton of 2100 O'Fallon street turned in a fire alarm at Twenty-first and O'Fallon streets at 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

She saw flames bursting from the stable of Edward F. Kerwin in the rear of his residence at 1409 North Twenty-first street. Without stopping to scream or faint Miss Manton ran to the fire box.

The fire apparatus that responded frightened her and she ran home before any person had a chance to make a heroine of her or the owner of the property could thank her.

The fire spread to the adjoining stables of Morris McNamara in the rear of 1405 North Twenty-first street and burned them. The damage amounts to several hundreds of dollars.

Board Makes Order.

Receipts for house rent or room rent will hereafter be required from suspicious appearing persons who apply for registration at the office of the election board. Secretary Hoblitzelle Wednesday instructed his clerks to make this demand in cases where an applicant is suspected of attempting to qualify as a "repeater" by registering from more than one place of abode.

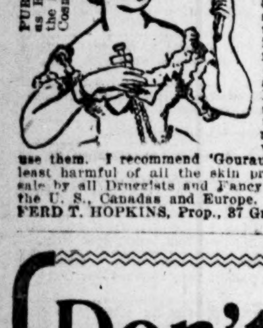

Mr. Hoblitzelle was called Tuesday afternoon to pass on the case of an applicant who was suspected of attempted fraud, but whom the clerk could not charge with certainty with any irregularity.

"You bring your receipt for rent here," said Mr. Hoblitzelle to the would-be voter. The man departed and has not since returned.

The secretary has requested the presence of a detective at the office of the board until March 9, when registration at the office will cease.

LIQUID AIR FAILURE

IT WAS SUPPORTING BANKS, NOT THE AIR.

THREE INSTITUTIONS CLOSED

They Are Located at Ashley and Des Plaines, Ill., and Ellettsville, Indiana.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Edmund Palmer, whose banks in Des Plaines and Ashley, Ill., and Ellettsville, Ind., have closed, with total liabilities estimated at $80,000, was arrested at his home in Des Plaines today. Palmer is wanted by the authorities of Ashley, and his arrest was at their request.

Against Palmer's bank at Ashley there are unsatisfied claims of $40,000. Depositors of the Ellettsville concern claim $30,000, and have filed many suits of attachment since the bank closed its doors a week ago. The deficit in the accounts of the Des Plaines institution is put at $12,000. The police have been looking for Palmer since Monday.

It is believed he will not be prosecuted by the Des Plaines authorities because his sureties have promised to make good the sums owed depositors, and out of consideration for E. J. Meyers, his partner, who suffered by the failure of the bank.

As a lecturer on the properties of liquid air, Palmer has traveled all over the United States, and by some was hailed as the superior of Tripler, the discoverer of the liquefying process. He is a lawyer and a teacher, having at different times conducted classes in a local high school and in the college at Quincy, Ill.

Palmer said today that inability to realize on his securities in liquid air projects was the cause of the closing of his banks, but asserted that if allowed to carry out his plans he would be able to pay his creditors dollar for dollar.

WANTED TO SELL HIS WIFE

Farmer Wise Regretted Her Departure Only Because He Could Have Gotten $10 for Her.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 27.—John Wise has inserted an advertisement in the papers to the effect that his wife has left him. He says he does not care so much for the loss of his wife as for the fact that he might have sold her for $10.

Wise had a wife a couple of years ago and sold her for $5. He did this because he could not afford to support her. When things grew more favorable Wise got another wife. She worked out on farms for her board and when she heard that he was trying to sell her she left.

Wise says he has struck hard luck lately. Only a short time ago he met with a loss by fire. Next a cow died and then a pig. Now his wife has run away.

OPPOSED TO SHORT WEIGHTS.

Grain Dealers Will Remedy Condition by Legislation.

At a conference of prominent Western grain dealers with representatives of the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange, held Tuesday at the Planters Hotel, the draft of a proposed city ordinance designed to settle the so-called short weight problem was unanimously indorsed.

It was stated in the meeting that there had long been complaint against the system of weighing in vogue in St. Louis and that much grain had been diverted from this market to Chicago on that account.

The proposed ordinance provides for the appointment by the mayor of a supervisor of weighing, subject to the approval of the Merchants' Exchange, which body shall have general supervision over the work. This ordinance will be introduced at once in the Municipal Assembly.

Those present at the conference were: B. A. Lockwood, Des Moines, Io., president, and Charles S. Clark, Chicago, secretary of the National Grain Dealers' Association; T. A. Baxter, secretary; H. C. Mowrey and E. L. Ulrich representing the Illinois association; President L. Cortelyou and Secretary E. J. Smiley of the Kansas association; President George S. Hayes and Secretary A. H. Brewster of the Nebraska association; President Duncan Hunter and Secretary C. A. Stibbens of the Southwestern Iowa association; and Secretary George A. Wells of the Iowa association.

The representatives of the Merchants' Exchange were: H. F. Langenberg, E. L. Bartlett, T. B. Teasdale, J. S. McClellan, L. B. Brinson, W. B. Harrison, E. L. Wagoner, A. P. Richardson, C. W. RAILROAD FOR ECUADOR.

Four Millions Will Be Spent on One From Guayaquil to Quito.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Four million dollars will be expended during the next two years in this country in the purchase of equipment and rolling stock by the Guayaquil & Quito railway of Ecudor, which is now being built by a syndicate of wealthy New Yorkers and Englishmen.

The road will be about 300 miles long. About 65 miles of the road from Quayaquil to Bucay is completed.

The road will connect Quayaquil, which has a population of 110,000, and is one of the most important seaports on the west coast of South America, with Quito, which has 200,000 inhabitants.

This marks the first important introduction of American capital into South American railroads, such undertakings having hitherto been financed wholly through British and other European sources.

The Carnegie Steel Co. has already delivered 60,000 tons of steel rails for the railroad, and is soon to ship 40,000 tons more. Additional contracts for 40,000 tons has just been signed. This contract, which is valued at $900,000, is the second largest ever placed in the United States for foreign trade, the record order having been secured by the Maryland Steel Co. for 69,000 tons for shipment to Russian roads. Delivery will begin inside of six weeks, and is to extend over a period of two years, by which time the road, it is expected, will be completed.

The Robbers Fled.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 27.—Four masked men tried to rob the Farmers' National Bank at Canfield, 10 miles from here, early this morning. Explosions, in attempting to open the safe, aroused the citizens and the robbers fled.

MR. PARKER SAW THE MAYOR

Republican Caucus Mayoralty Candidate Visited City Hall to Meet the Party Workers.

George W. Parker, Republican caucus candidate for mayor, paid his first visit to the mayor Wednesday morning, and spent a half hour conferring with him in his sanctum and meeting the ward leaders of the party, who stood in the outer office while Mr. Parker talked with the mayor.

Chris Schawacker was bolder than his companions, and, marching into the inner office, proceeded to make himself at home with the mayoralty candidate, while "Tub" Becker, Pat Clarke and Carl Ungar regarded with admiration the temerity of the Fifth ward boss.

When the mayor and his guest emerged from the inner office, followed by Schawacker, a general introduction to the central committeemen and others assembled in the room followed. Mr. Parker, Louis and Ed Becker, Ed Baumann, L. C. Bohle, Louis Alt, W. H. Blake, Pat Clarke, Carl Ungar and Jeptha D. Howe were among the mayor's visitors. It was their first meeting with the candidate for whom they are expected to carry their wards at next Tuesday's primaries.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 27.—In the House this morning D. A. McFall introduced a bill which relates to the judicial proceedings which occurred in regard to the suit against the Waters-Pierce Oil Co., resulting in that company being perpetually enjoined from doing business in Texas and the organization of a new company under the same name, which is doing business under a permit. The bill then provides for the enactment of a law declaring that the permit under which the company is doing business in Texas shall be forfeited. Judge McFall claims to have authorities to sustain his position.

A resolution was introduced and is pending which seeks to destroy the business of self-appointed claim agents, who are requiring fees from the beneficiaries under the Confederate pension act.

Senate finance committee today reported the general appropriation of five million dollars, which is about a million in excess of the appropriation for the last two years. A resolution was adopted requesting the governor to furnish the Legislature with a statement of the financial condition of the state.

A bill was passed granting a new charter for Sherman.

Bill for the establishment of kindergarten schools in all incorporated towns in the state was engrossed.

The industrial school bill was again postponed to next Wednesday.

A bill passed increasing the salaries of the superintendent of insane asylum from $2000 to $3000, and the assistant from $1200 to $1800, and superintendent of orphans' homes from $10000 to $1500.

VETERANS WILL NOT MARCH.

Decline to Participate in the Presidential Inauguration Parade.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Veteran organizations of the civil and Spanish wars have officially declined to participate in the inaugural parade on March 4. The decision affects organizations in the Grand Army of the Republic, the Union Veterans' Union and the Spanish War Veterans. The dissatisfaction of the veterans with the place assigned them in the parade is responsible for today's action. It was their wish to act as the personal escort to the President. Grand Marshal Greene, on the contrary, assigned them to a position in the line ahead of the civic organizations, and following the national guard. Gen. Daniel Sickles today notified Gen. Greene that the veterans had declined to participate in the parade, and he tendered his resignation as marshal of the veteran division.

WANT NEW POLICE LAW

Committee of St. Louisans Think the Cincinnati Non-Partisan System Is a Model One.

George W. Colby, a St. Louis dealer in office supplies, has written to Mayor Fleischmann of Cincinnati, asking for a copy of the law governing the police force of that city.

Mr. Colby said to the Post-Dispatch Wednesday that he wrote to Mayor Fleischman on behalf of a committee of seven citizens, five of whom are members of the Merchants' Exchange, and that the committee had decided to appeal to the Legislature for a new police law, framed on the Cincinnati model.

"Under the Cincinnati law," said Mr. Colby, "politics is entirely eliminated from the police department. Patrolmen are appointed on the recommendation of business men, without regard to party affiliations, and are required to show fitness by passing a series of examinations. The police board is a non-partisan body, and the spirit of the law has been carried out since it has been in force there, making the Cincinnati police department a model one.

"It is the belief of the members of the committee which I represent that this city needs a system like that of Cincinnati in order to bring the police force to the standard of efficiency demanded for the World's Fair. We will present a law on the Cincinnati model to the legislature, and will try to have it passed at this session. If there is not time to prepare the measure for the regular session the calling of an extra session would be justified.

"The committee which has started the movement contains two Democrats, and we shall try to secure the support of the men of both parties who believe that the present police system of this city should be improved."

TAKEN TO THE PENITENTIARY.

Twenty-One St. Louis Convicts Begin Their Terms.

Twenty-one convicts were taken from the city jail to the penitentiary Wednesday morning. Their sentences range from life imprisonment to two years.

The "string" was led by Ben McGowan, who was convicted of killing Thomas Mooney in a saloon on the levee. Adam Wetzel and John Williams, the "dude" burglars, who are to serve 10 years each, were among the number. Charles Muckeridge, convicted of highway robbery and shooting at Officers Noonan and Lange, will serve 17 years.

Other prisoners were: James Keyes, 10 years; John Mallory, five years; Charles Meyer, James Stanley, William Walsh, Dave Morris, William Carter and Cornelius Bell, each five years; J. J. Janson, three years; James Higgins, Jonas Washington, Frank Toran, Frank Grongstan, two years each; George Jackson, four years and Elijah Cunningham, two and one-half years.

Mrs. Boudinot Arrested.

Mrs. T. W. Boudinot of 1108 Hickory street is held at the City Hospital for mental examination, at the request of her husband, who reported Tuesday night that she had attempted suicide by taking poison.

Mrs. Boudinot told the Post-Dispatch Wednesday that she had not taken poison, but had pretended to do so in order to frighten her husband after a quarrel.

On two former occasions the husband has caused the arrest of his wife on charges of attempted suicide. Once he said she had tried to cut her throat, and, another time, that she had attempted to stab herself with a hatpin. She denied both charges.

Sale of Electric Light Plant.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

VAN BUREN, Ark., Feb. 27.—Van Buren electric light and power plant, owned by Johnston Bros., St. Elmo, Ill., was sold today to J. E. Powers of this city, possession to be given tomorrow. The plant and franchise is a valuable one and will be enlarged during summer.

FRACTIONAL DECLINES

WHEAT FUTURES RANGED NARROWLY, CLOSING LOWER.

CEREALS CLOSED STEADY

The Early Market Was Generally Weak, but Later Futures Showed a Rallying Tendency.

The local market closed with small losses for the day, but with an improved tone, compared with that of the early session.

May wheat closed 1-16c down and July ¼@⅜c below the previous close. May corn ¼@⅜c down and July ⅛c down. May oats ⅛c down.

Wheat and flour clearances today were 747,879 bu, corn 885,071 bu, and oats 90,980 bu.

The wheat market in the early and middle session was decidedly weak, but later prices showed an improved tendency, futures closing several fractions over the low point of the day.

Scalping held wheat within a narrow range today, conditions being favorable to little activity, and the volume of business remaining light.

A decline of ¼d at Liverpool started the market with a break, and a further decline in that grain center, making a total loss of ½d for the day, worked wheat prices down a few more fractions. Paris closed 20 centimes or ½c down. Antwerp, unchanged.

May wheat opened at 74⅛@74¼c, and then sold at 74⅛c, 74c, 73⅞@74c, 73⅞c, and finally at 73¾c. Then for some time the future fluctuated narrowly. July opened at 72⅜c, and later sold at 72½c.

Receipts of wheat at St. Louis today were 24,564 bu, compared with 13,500 bu same date last year. Of these 962 sacks and 26 cars were local, compared with 18 cars same date last year.

Receipts of wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth today were 230 cars, as compared with 523 cars same date last year.

Receipts of wheat at primary points today were 441,153 bu, as compared with 621,844 bu same date last year.

Shipments, 212,822 bu, compared with 110,000 bu same date last year.

Corn Felt Wheat Decline.

Corn was weak today, a decline in wheat futures and a weak Liverpool market being two items largely responsible for the slump.

Liverpool closed ⅛d down for the coarse grain.

Locally May corn opened at 38¾c and then sold down to 38⅛@38⅝c, and then rallied back to 38⅝@38⅞c. July sold at 38⅞c and then was offered at 38¾@38⅞c.

Receipts of corn at St. Louis today were 79,200 bu, compared with 55,200 bu same date last year. Of these 77 cars were local, compared with 55 cars same date last year.

Receipts of corn at primary points today were 956,820 bu, as compared with 307,207 bu same date last year.

Shipments, 305,091 bu, compared with 173,000 bu same date last year.

May later touched 40⅜c, but reacted in sympathy with wheat and closed steady, ¼c lower at 40⅜c.

Oats Market Was Dull.

May oats were offered at 26¼c, but no early trades were made and until late in the day no other prices of any kind were recorded.

Receipts of oats at St. Louis today were 44,400 bu, compared with 20,400 bu same date last year. Of these 28 cars were local, compared with 17 cars same date last year.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Wheat weakened early today under a hammering given it by the bears. Easy cables from Liverpool and a sharp decline at Paris were factors. May opened a shade lower at 76⅛c to 76½c, and under moderate pressure declined to 75⅝@75¾c. Profit-taking by scalping shorts caused a rally from this to 76c, but the recovery brought out more liberal offerings from bears, and the market again declined, this time dropping to 75⅝@75¾c, where it steadied and ruled rather dull for a time, the steadier tone of the Liverpool close helping to check further recession. Local receipts were 54 cars, one of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 230 cars, against 243 last week and 523 a year ago.

The effect of an improvement in the grade of corn receipts was apparent in the course of the corn market early. In today's receipts, 322 cars, there were 15 cars which were equal to contract requirements. May opened ⅛@¼c lower at 40⅜c to 40⅛c, and under selling by longs and pressure from bears dropped to 40⅛c. At this decline, however, the tone became steadier, bulls buying for a turn.

May oats opened a shade lower to unchanged at 25⅝c to 25⅝@25¾c, but sold off to 25⅜@25½c in sympathy with the decline in corn. Trade was dull. Receipts were 165 cars.

Provisions were dull. The market opened easier because of heavy hog receipts, but held steady and practically unchanged for some time, there being little pressure to sell. May pork opened 5c lower at $14.02½; May lard unchanged at $7.47½, and May ribs 2½c down at $7.05.

The strength of the Minneapolis cash market caused covering of shorts late and the market rallied to 76⅛c, and closed heavy at that price, ⅛c under yesterday.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Price changes in the steel stocks at the opening were generally small and divided between gains and losses, but the stocks fluctuated very uncertainly after the opening. Federal Steel preferred opened wide at 88 to 88⅞, compared with 87 last night. American Hoop was up a point, American Tinplate was off a point. National Tube opened up a fraction and then dropped 1¼. The changes in the railroad list were small and mixed. General Electric fell 1¼.

Operations in the steel stocks were confusing on efforts to effect relative values of the constituent companies to that of the new stock issues. Preferred stocks were bought and advanced from 1 to 2 points. Some of the common issues were supported, but others were liquidated, Steel and Wire falling below 10 and National Tube losing 2¼. The diverse movement unsettled other stocks and declines followed. Brooklyn Transit and Metropolitan Street Railway dipped sharply, and an opening gain of a point in St. Paul was more than wiped out. Tobacco, after reacting to 120¼, was marked up to 122, and later fell to near the lowest. All of the common steel stocks were then bid up a point, which steadied the general market. At 11 o'clock Sugar, Brooklyn Transit and the steel stocks were being sold freely and ruling generally at the lowest.

Sugar and Brooklyn Transit suffered losses of 2⅞ and 2¼ respectively, before support appeared, and Steel and Wire, Tinplate and Smelting were also especially weak. Large blocks of St. Paul were then bought on a rising scale up to 154⅛. Many good rallies were made in sympathy. Amalgamated Copper was in good demand and advanced 1¼. Bonds were firm.

CUBA MUST NOT BE FREE.

That Is the Opinion of Two Travelers Just Returned From There.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Several of the passengers on the steamer Havana, which has just arrived from Havana, express the opinion that Cuba is not in a political condition to receive her independence. Dr. W. C. Phelps of Buffalo said:

"Uncle Sam must stay in Cuba. Everybody with whom I conversed in Cuba wants the United States to stay there. It is only the rabble of negroes, consisting of about 30 per cent of the entire population of Cuba, who yell for 'Free Cuba,' and these uneducated, discontented and shiftless people are merely 'fire-eaters.' If they get their freedom some other nation would step in and take the island from them for debt. I must say that the streets of Havana are beautifully clean, and that the general health of Havana is remarkably good, as there has been a liberal use of disinfectants. The great trouble in Cuba is that there is nothing fit to eat."

Bishop Howard, the journalist, said: "If the United States try to leave Cuba next June, as is talked of, they'll have to get back there pretty quick to avert a state of anarchy, which would undoubtedly follow their withdrawal. Capital is apprehensive. Everything is apprehensive. Everything is dull, as everyone is awaiting the trend of events. There is no trade. All are waiting. The theaters are only open spasmodically. Americans and the capitalists want the retention of United States troops."

EXPLOSION IN A MINE.

NEW WHATCOM, Wash., Feb. 27.—An explosion in the Blue Canyon coal mine, a few miles from here, killed Ed Mulligan and Dick Daly, two of the day crew. The rest of the day shift had just left the mine and the night shift had not yet gone in. Daly leaves a widow and four children. The cause of the explosion is not yet known.

TOOK SACK OF COFFEE.

Thieves Helped Themselves to Delivery Wagon's Contents.

While Charles Spangal, a driver for the Roth-Homeyer Grocery Co., was delivering goods at Sixth and Biddle streets, three young men drove a wagon alongside his and helped themselves to a sack of coffee weighing 35 pounds and valued at $6.

Spangal reappeared in time to see them disappear east on O'Fallon street. They drove a green wagon and a black horse.

WILLIAM M. EVARTS IS ILL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Ex-Senator William M. Evarts is seriously ill at his home, Second avenue and Fourteenth street, with pneumonia. It was said today that he was in no immediate danger, and was doing as well as could be expected, considering his advanced age. The ex-senator, who is 83 years old, has not been strong for some time. He grew so weak last Saturday that the members of the family were summoned to his home.

Scrofula

THE OFFSPRING OF HEREDITARY BLOOD TAINT.

Scrofula is but a modified form of Blood Poison and Consumption. The parent who is tainted by either will see in the child the same disease manifesting itself in the form of swollen glands of the neck and throat, catarrh, weak eyes, offensive sores and abscesses and oftentimes white swelling—sure signs of Scrofula. There may be no external signs for a long time, for the disease develops slowly in some cases, but the poison is in the blood and will break out at the first favorable opportunity. S. S. S. cures this wasting, destructive disease by first purifying and building up the blood and stimulating and invigorating the whole system.

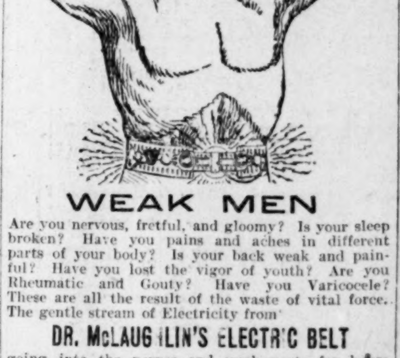

J. M. Seals, 115 Public Square, Nashville, Tenn., says: "Ten years ago my daughter fell and cut her forehead. From this wound the glands on the side of her face became swollen and bursted. Some of the best doctors here and elsewhere attended her without any benefit. We decided to try S. S. S., and a few bottles cured her entirely."

SSS makes new and pure blood to nourish and strengthen the body, and is a positive and safe cure for Scrofula. It overcomes all forms of blood poison, whether inherited or acquired, and no remedy so thoroughly and effectively cleanses the blood. If you have any blood trouble, or your child has inherited some blood taint, take S. S. S. and get the blood in good condition and prevent the disease doing further damage.

BAIL FOR PATRICK

J. T. MILLIKEN OF ST. LOUIS OFFERED A $10,000 CASH DEPOSIT.

ACCUSED HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW

The Proffer Was Refused by the District Attorney, Who Wanted Time to Investigate.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Yesterday afternoon John T. Milliken, the well-known grain dealer of St. Louis, went to the office of the district attoreny and profferred bail for Albert T. Patrick, charged with forging the name of William Marsh Rice, the dead Texas millionaire. Milliken counted out $10,000 in cash, to be used as collateral security for Patrick's return when wanted.

Mr. Milliken announced that his interest in the case was due to the fact that the accused man was his brother-in-law.

District Attorney Philbin opposed the proceedings when he heard of them, and said he wanted to inquire into the matter. Judge McMahon, before whom the application was made, then refused to accept bail, and Patrick was sent back to the Tombs.

Charles L. Webster, Patrick's lawyer, went to the district attorney's office today to see about the matter of bail. He notified Bail Bond Clerk Poole that Patrick was ready to give bail. Poole made out the usual form and sent it to Assistant District Attorney Osborne's desk, but Mr. Osborne was in Albany. Mr. Osborne has had charge of the Patrick case. Poole then sent it to Assistant District Attorney Le Barbier, who signed it "correct as to form" and sent it back.

District Attorney Philbin says he had no intimation until the matter was almost over that Patrick was to have been released. The district attorney then hurried over to court, where Judge McMahon was listening to the case, where they were waiting for the certificate to arrive from the city chamberlain's office, to show that the money had been paid over in cash.

The district attorney at once told the judge that he desired to inquire into the matter, and that he hoped the judge would not allow the proceedings to go any further at that time. Judge McMahon said he thought that reasonable, and he revoked his acquiescence.

"The reason I opposed the proceedings to release Patrick, "said District Attorney Philbin, "was because I wished Assistant District Attorney Osborne, who is in Albany, to take up this part of the affair. He has been familiar all along with the case. Though I have no great suspicion about the matter, I think it is very peculiar that application for bail should be made at this office on the very day that Mr. Osborne happens to be out of the city. I mean to consult with him about the case, as he knows it from beginning to end."

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 27.—The biggest baby in the world is holding a continuous reception in this city. Since his advent yesterday the house has been crowded by persons curious to see the wonder.

Baby McCarty tipped the beam at 26½ pounds before he had uttered his first bawl, and his nurse declared today that he has been gaining in weight every minute.

His father, Edward McCarty, a veterinary surgeon, weighs 300 pounds.

As for Mrs. McCarty, the cares of 26½ pound motherhood seem little to her. She is only 50 pounds short of her husband in avordupois, and is doing well.

"We have 12 others, and they all weigh from 200 pounds upward," said the husband. "We're a great family."

On looking for several samples of whisky and cocktails to be used as exhibits in court the league detectives discovered that they were missing. The sleuths heard of Taylor's Sunday happiness and he admitted that he drank the "evidence." The League has a new janitor and the prosecutions that took many weeks to work up have been dismissed.

MINISTERS WERE NOT PRESENT

SIR ROBERT HART MADE A SHARP PROTEST.

He Asks the Return of His Personal Realty Seized by the Italians for Legation Purposes.

PEKIN, Feb. 26.—A crowd of fully 10,000 persons witnessed the execution of Chi Siu and Hsu Cheng Yu, who were beheaded here today in accordance with the demands of the powers. The members of the various legations were conspicuously absent, feeling that if they were present they might seem to be gloating over their fallen adversaries. Every power, however, was largely represented by military officers and soldiers and there was also present a staff from each of the foreign powers. Besides these many missionaries witnessed the executions.

The condemned men met death stoically. In each case one blow severed the head from the body.

At the time the execution was being carried out the ministers held a meeting and determined on the part of the majority to draw a curtain over further demands for blood. United States Special Commissioner Rockhill sided strongly with those favoring humane methods, who are Sir Ernest Satow and Komura, Cologh and De Giers, respectively Japanese, Spanish and Russian ministers. Others believe that China has not been sufficiently punished and that men should be executed in every city, town and village where foreigners were injured.

It is safe to say that little bloodshed will be demanded. Another important point that was brought up at the meeting was that of the legation quarters. Mr. Rockhill impressed the ministers by his remarks regarding the protest of Sir Robert Hart, chief of the Chinese imperial maritime customs, against the seizure of his property to increase the area of the legations, saying that the services rendered the powers by the financial representative of China should have prevented the indignities and spoliation inflicted. The feeling is general that Italy should recede from her position and return the property she has taken and that if necessary for her to increase her legation she should take land elsewhere.

Dr. Mumm Von Schwartzenstein, the German minister, and Hsu Tsu-yung Salvago Raggi, the Italian representative, expressed high appreciation of Sir Robert Hart and regretted that matters of state made necessary the taking of lands of the customs officials. Sir Ernest Satow and Mr. Rockhill, thought an exception should certainly be made of Sir Robert Hart's personal property and that the limits of the legation shall be defined the same as published.

Reports from the Shen Si province show that suffering due to the famine there is increasing.

THESE BEARS HUNT TEDDY

Arizona Bruins Will Beard the Animal Killer in His Lair on Inauguration Day.

Two bears, named "Teddy" and "Theodore," from the wild and woolly West, will participate in the inaugural parade in Washington Monday to remind Teddy Roosevelt, the hunter, of the days he spent in Grizzly Gulch.

"Teddy" and "Theodore," in two cages, spent an hour between trains at the Union Station. Each occupied a cage of his own. They arrived in an express car on the Chicago & Alton from Kansas City and left St. Louis over the Vandalia.

The keeper of the bears was "Lucky Mark" Lulley, a prominent mining speculator of Arizona. To an interested group of station attaches he told the story of his grizzlies while he waited for a train.

Former Mayor Tom Taggart of Indianapolis, he said, was paying the expenses of Lulley, his family and his bears to Washington in order that the bears might entertain Col. Teddy, the sportsman, during the monotony of the great parade.

Mr. Taggart is bestowing this kindness upon the vice-president-elect not of his own accord, says Mr. Lulley, but because he has to.

Last summer Taggart and William H. Hohe, collector of internal revenue at Indianapolis, and a leading Republican, joined Lulley in a big hunt in the Santa Rita mountains of Arizona. Like that other great hunter, Teddy Roosevelt, they met with great success. Not being men of war and used to bloodshed, like Teddy, however, they slaughtered only a little game and tried the trap for the rest.

Thus it happened that the lines fell in pleasant places for "Teddy and "Theodore," the bears. They were taken alive and set aside by their captors to grow fat for the day of the great inaugural.

This much settled, the question arose as to how the bears should be taken to Washington. After much debating, Hohe offered to bet on the presidential election with Mr. Taggart, the loser to pay the expenses of Lulley, his family and the bears to Washington. Taggart took up the bet and being a Democrat, he lost.

The bears were taken to Lulley's ranch and put in training for more civilized surroundings. They progressed well and Union Station attaches who are authority on bears, declare that they never saw a finer pair than "Teddy" and "Theodore."

According to the bet, Mr. Lulley was accompanied by his family at Union Station. He declared there was not a doubt that the grizzlies would have a prominent place near the carriage of the vice-president-elect in the parade Monday.

After it is all over, they will be placed in a zoo in Washington unless Co. Roosevelt should show too great a fondness for them and desire to take them home with him.

The grandjury will probably act on the case on Friday.

THE DOCTOR WAS A WOMAN

Remarkable Case Developed by a Searching Son.

HIS MOTHER LIVED AS A MAN

SHE HAD POSED IN FLORIDA AS A RETIRED PHYSICIAN.

Her Death Revealed Her Sex and Her Son and Daughter Now Know Their Parentage.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Hugh H. Haviland of Greenville, Ky., probably now knows who was his mother, but his knowledge has come at the cost of a most remarkable exposure.

In a search for the heirs to an unclaimed estate from the Tarleton Goldwaithe, a lawyer of this city, says he has discovered a second Murray Hall in the person of Dr. Theodore Keattle. Keattle lived for several years near Ponta Corda, Fla., posing as a retired physician from the north. When the old doctor died, in 1896, it was discovered that "he" was a woman.

Information collected by the lawyer has led him to believe that the right name of "Dr. Keattle" was "Kate Haviland" and that she lived in this city several years ago and posed and dressed as a man. He has discovered persons who knew her both as Dr. Keattle and Kate Haviland.

These former friends of Keattle told the lawyer that she was the mother of two children, who were separated from her in infancy and grew up without any knowledge of their antecedents. One of these children, Hugh H. Haviland, was placed, when less than a year old, in an infant asylum in Kentucky.

The other child, a girl, was reared by foster parents and later was married to Imblay Clarke, who afterwards became a wealthy mine owner in Australia. This daughter, it was said, died, leaving a girl in San Francisco in 1876.

She is Grace M. Elliott, is 24 years old and lives at her foster parents in San Francisco, at 1426 Market street. Miss Elliott is fighting in the courts there to prove that she is the daughter of Imblay Clarke and heiress to the $20,000,000 estate left by him.

WONDERFUL CURES BY PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

This Greatest of All Remedies Endorsed by the Bishop of Burlington.

No remedy in the world means so much to the sick and suffering as Paine's Celery Compound.

No remedy in the world has been indorsed and recommended by men and women whose only motive is their love for their fellowmen, and the hope that what Paine's Celery Compound has done for them, it may do for the readers of their testimonials.

Paine's Celery Compound is not a patent medicine, and must be distinguished from patent medicines. It is a prescription which is put within the reach of every man and woman in the civilized world—the prescription of the greatest of American physicians—the crowning result of his years of study and experience. It is the wonderful prescription of Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D. LL. D., of Dartmouth College.

The following letter from Bishop Michaud, one of the ablest priests in the Roman Catholic Church in this country, tells on its face of his kind-hearted desire to be of service to the people, and breathes a sincerity that can leave no doubt in any one's mind of the great superiority of Paine's Celery Compound over all the so-called remedies that have recently been clamoring for attention by adroit and showy advertisements:

Wells & Richardson Co.

Gentlemen:—I have been asked why I recommended Paine's Celery Compound, and I desire to put on record frankly my reasons for this endorsement, hoping that my words may inspire those readers who need health and strength with faith to try Paine's Celery Compound and prove to themselves its worth.

At the Fanny Allen Hospital, an institution in which I am deeply interested, Paine's Celery Compound has been used successfully.

The Sisters of Mercy at Mount St. Mary's Academy, on Mansfield ave., rely upon Paine's Celery Compound as a tonic and strength-giver.

In my own household, one of the domestics has taken Paine's Celery Compound for liver trouble of long standing, and says: "It has done more good than any other medicine."

Several priests have spoken to me in praise of this remedy, and I believe it has the confidence of my associates.

Even did I not know from personal observations of the worth of Paine's Celery Compound, I should feel like praising it for the simple reason that it is prepared by the Wells & Richardson Co., a firm whose members I have known for nearly a quarter of a century, and in whom I have perfect confidence. Very truly,

JOHN S. MICHAUD,
Coadjutor Bishop of Burlington.

There is no household in the land that can honestly afford to be without this remedy. It is a simple matter to test its astonishing efficacy.

WILDMAN'S PROPHECY

THE DEAD CONSUL SAID AGUINALDO WAS DEAD.

PHILIPPINE WAR WAS ENDED

"China," He Said at Honolulu, "Will Be Again Divided Into Five Different Kingdoms."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—The last statement made for publication by United States Consul-General Rounsevelle Wildman, who lost his life in the wreck of the steamer Rio de Janeiro, is printed in the Honolulu Republican of Feb. 14. The Republican says:

"Among the more prominent passengers who are passing through Honolulu on the City of Rio de Janeiro, is Rounsevelle Wildman, the present United States consul-general at Hong Kong. Mr. Wildman is returning to the states, 'just to see how things are looking after a four year's absence,' as he expressed himself. When asked concerning the situation in the Philippines, Mr. Wildman said:

"Before answering your question, let me say these words in a prefactory way:

"Our present administration has acted most wisely in handling this matter. The Philippine question is practically at an end. If our force can keep the insurgents under control during the rainy season, and I believe they can, the matter will solve itself. The insurgents are being cut off from all external communication. They find it harder and harder to secure food stuffs. They long ago were prevented from receiving anything in the way of fire arms. They have scarcely any powder, and, in order to carry on their warfare, fill their shells with the heads of matches. The force generated by the detonation of this material is of sufficient force to drive a ball through an inch plank.

"Aguinaldo, I believe, is dead. There is considerable dispute as to this, but from indications I am inclined to believe that he is no more. Gen. Sandico, the chief of Aguinaldo's staff, is trading in Aguinaldo's name, and is in a very unhappy plight. He was he who issued the proclamation to the insurgents to kill all foreign women and children. We have the proclamation in his own handwriting. He is making threats over Aguinaldo's name and seeking for peace, at the same time declaring that if terms advantageous to the rebel foreign protectorate were not made, the war would be renewed with much more severeity.

"To ... theory the future of China," Mr. Wildman continued, "is a most difficult thing to do, but I may safely hazard this: China will be divided into five different kingdoms. China was originally five district divisions, and to those it will again revert. There is absolutely no sympathy between the northern and southern portions of the Flowery Kingdom. In the north a Caucasian's life is never safe, in the south he may travel anywhere with impunity."

ONLY PRAISE FOR SAMPSON.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEWPORT, R. I., Feb. 27.—Gunner Charles Morgan, whose ambition to rise in the navy on his merits from gunner to ensign, met with such an amazing rebuff from Rear Admiral Sampson, on whose flagship he served before Santiago, arrived here last night from the Brooklyn Navy Yard. He was in ignorance of the rumpus caused in Washington by Sampson's opposing his advancement. He is quite ill, and denied himself to most callers. When told the facts he said, with much embarrassment:

"You see my nervous condition, and you must know that it would be unbecoming in me to talk. I am ill—so ill that I will not leave my rooms. I cannot, as an humble officer of the American navy, say anything. I am overwhelmed with telegrams of congratulations, but I do not deserve them. To be sure, having risen from a naval apprentice to the honored position of a gunner in the navy, I am proud, and so are my family. You can say that I never heard of the newspaper reports until I reached here yesterday late in the afternoon.

Admiral Sampson was always my friend and I know he is yet. I may be the victim of circumstances, but I have tried to do my duty. Should the bill be passed by Congress I may not be able to take the examination in view of the fact that I shall have exceeded the age limit in said bill by between five and six months.

"However I am willing to take the examination if the movers of the proposed bill will admit of my so doing. I have friends in high station and I am grateful to the members of Congress for expressing good will toward me, especially Congressman Bull of this state, who has often encouraged me in my efforts to obtain promotion in the American navy.

"I refuse to discuss the action of Admiral Sampson, under whom I served. I honor and respect Admiral Sampson. Do you see that picture of Sampson hanging there on the wall?"

When the launch reached her dock here a good-sized crowd that had been waiting gave three cheers for Morgan. No hero could have wished for a more cordial homecoming. He passed up Terry Wharf alone to Thames street where he was stopped by men, women and children, all anxious to shake his hand. He was still nervous and painfully pale, for it was here that he first learned that he was the talk of the country. His most intimate friends declared that they never saw him so distressed and uncomfortable.

Upon arriving at the Perry House, whose flag was flying in his honor, he was given another ovation and was obliged to seek the seclusion of his apartments.

DYSPEPSIA.

Geo. S. Scally of 75 Nassau St., New York, says: "For years I have been troubled with rheumatism and dyspepsia and I came to the conclusion to try your pills. I immediately found great relief from their use; I feel like a new man since I commenced taking them, and would not now be without them. The drowsy, sleepy feeling I used to have has entirely disappeared. The dyspepsia has left me and my rheumatism is gone entirely. I am satisfied if any one so afflicted will give Radway's Pills a trial they will surely cure them, for I believe it all comes from the system being out of order—the liver not doing its work."

TO BURN A LAKE OF OIL

300,000 Barrels Stored in an Earth Reservoir Is Found Unfit for Use.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 27.—The owners of the Lucas oil gusher, near Beaumont, have decided that the 300,000 barrels of oil which now fill an earth reservoir, covering about 75 acres, are of such little commercial value owing to their being mixed with dirt they shall be destroyed by burning.

It will be one of the biggest fires ever witnessed in this country, and every precaution is to be taken to prevent it doing damage to property in that section. It is expected that the oil will burn several days before it is completely destroyed, as the ground is thoroughly saturated with it. It will be fired next week, but the day has not been fixed upon.

Eupepsia TABLETS

The pressure of a stomach distended by gas and undigested food is the starting point from which a large number of serious, well-known and common diseases originate.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion never correct themselves. Trouble arising from disordered conditions of the stomach are relieved and permanently cured by Eupepsia Tablets.

"After I commenced taking Eupepsia Tablets, the first dose gave me immediate relief, and after taking two weeks' treatment I considered myself cured. The truth is I would not take $1,000 for the good Eupepsia Tablets have done me. No one but the suffering ones can realize what torture there is in imperfect digestion. I now can eat just what I desire."

AN OBLIGING JUSTICE.

Orders Creditors to Wait the Pleasure of the Duke.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—In the Court of King's Bench today the case of Sanguinetto against the Duke of Manchester was again postponed, owing to the duke's absence in America. The plaintiff seeks to recover £500 commission for procuring the duke a loan of £10,000. The defense pleads that the terms of the loan are unreasonable.

Plaintiff's counsel opposed the postponement, saying the defendant being a duke and enjoying an extended honeymoon in America, was no reason his creditor should suffer.

Justice Bichan, remarking that the fact that there was a lady in the case appealed to him very strongly, granted the postponement.
